The Measure of Angles in Triangles

If a triangle ABC is cut from paper, and its three corners are torn off, it is soon discovered that the three pieces will form a straight angle. Thus, \( m(\angle 1) + m(\angle 2) + m(\angle 3) = 180^\circ \).