Faculty: Brasington, Calvi, E. Clark, P. Clark, Coleman, Hueston, Kuhlman, Maloy, Pearson, Price, Rausch, Roper, Shaffer, Sokolon, Stuart, Stuntz, Thoman, Vizzini, Welch.

The Department of History, Political Science and Criminal Justice offers courses in American, East Asian and Western European history and political science. Programs are offered in criminal justice, emergency management administration, public administration and geography, designed to prepare students for careers in the respective fields. In cooperation with the Division of Education, the department offers a teaching field in history and social studies, meeting one of the major requirements for the professional certificate.

The Department of History, Political Science and Criminal Justice has an excellent collection of source material available in Cornette Library: unusually complete files of scholarly journals, more than 600,000 government documents, microfilm and microcard acquisitions (including a complete file of the New York Times and records of the U.S. Congress from 1789 to the present). Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum, located on the southern edge of campus, has a superb regional collection of books, journals, and thousands of manuscript items and recorded interviews with pioneers of the area.

Bachelor of Applied Arts and Sciences (B.A.A.S.) Degree

Major in Emergency Management Administration (Major Code: 603)

The emergency management administration (EMA) program awards a professional management education to firefighters, emergency medical service providers and law-enforcement personnel through Internet classes. The EMA program’s goal is to prepare students for advanced levels of administration and management within the emergency services professions.

The emergency management administration degree program was specially designed by West Texas A&M University in cooperation with the Texas Engineering Extension Service for non-traditional students who can complete the program while remaining employed full time in governmental or industrial emergency management positions. WTAMU’s four-year emergency management program is the only four-year professional emergency management program in the state of Texas combining the curriculums of public administration and business management.

The degree plan requires completion of an associate’s degree at a community college or completion of appropriate technical-education courses at accredited technical-education facilities such as the National Fire Academy. WTAMU can receive the transfer of up to 66 credit hours from community colleges or technical-education facilities. Within the 66 hours, up to 48 hours of academic credit can be provided for technical courses that otherwise would not receive academic credit from WTAMU.

To be eligible for the emergency management administration program, a prospective student must have technical credit from a community college or technical-education facility, must be currently employed in an emergency management profession and must have at least five years experience in an emergency management position.

The emergency management administration major requires completion of a general education core curriculum of 46 credit hours, many of which may have been completed at a community college. The degree includes 42 credit hours of advanced professional-development courses within a 127-semester hour degree plan. Many non-traditional students also transfer credit hours from other four-year universities in Texas and around the nation. To receive a degree from WTAMU, at least 32 hours must be taken from WTAMU. Because the hours transferred to WTAMU are unique to each student, a student should request a formal degree plan immediately after being admitted to WTAMU.

Contact the emergency management administration academic adviser or the dean of the Sybil B. Harrington College of Fine Arts and Humanities for additional information about the emergency management administration major.

Department of History, Political Science and Criminal Justice

Major in Social Sciences (Major Code: 121)

University Core Curriculum Requirements

Refer to the "University Core Curriculum" section of this catalog.

A student electing this major must complete the following 54-hour program from among anthropology, economics, geography, history, political science, psychology and sociology:

- 18 semester hours in each of two social sciences.
- Nine semester hours in each of two additional social sciences.

No one-semester-hour courses may be counted toward the above requirements. Students following this program shall have as their major adviser the head of the department in which they elect to meet one of the 18-semester-hour requirements noted above.

Teacher Certification

The Department of History, Political Science and Criminal Justice offers secondary teacher certification majors in history and social studies, as well as grades 4–8 social studies. Consult the "Division of Education" section of this catalog for core curriculum, certification majors and interdisciplinary requirements related to programs offered by this department.
