How to Choose a Database

Often, disciplines have one or two “must search” databases. Other disciplines, such as Communication Disorders, may only have a few pertinent articles available in each of a variety of databases. For example, the databases listed below are helpful for Communication Disorders.

Communication Disorders - Recommended Databases

- ▶ PsycINFO (EBSCO)
- ▶ Communication & Mass Media Complete (EBSCO)
- ▶ ScienceDirect (Books and Journals)
- ▶ CINAHL Complete (Cumulative Index to Nursing and Allied Health Lit) (EBSCO)
- ▶ Academic Search Complete (EBSCO)
- ▶ Web of Science
- ▶ SAGE Journals Online
- ▶ SpringerLink
- ▶ ERIC (EBSCO) – Education Resources Information Center
- ▶ Medline(EBSCO)
- ▶ Health & Wellness Resource Center

To find databases recommended for a particular discipline, begin at the library home page <http://www.wtamu.edu/library/> and click on All Databases.

The tab Find Articles will point to some of the best database for a discipline.

The screenshot displays the Cornette Library website for West Texas A&M University. The header features the university logo and the library name. The main navigation bar includes tabs for 'Get Started', 'Find Articles' (which is highlighted), 'Find Books', and 'Citing Sources'. Below the navigation, there is a search bar and a dropdown menu set to 'This Guide'. The page content is organized into several columns and sections:

- Top Navigation: Library » InfoGuides » Communication Disorders. Includes links for 'Admin Sign In', 'Print Guide', and 'RSS Updates'.
- Tags: anatomy, articles, biology, books, communication disorders, life science, medicine, nursing, psychology, research.
- Metadata: Last Updated: Oct 26, 2012. URL: http://infoguides.wtamu.edu/commdisorders.
- Find Articles Section: Contains a search bar and a dropdown menu.
- Databases & Scholarly Articles: Lists 'Library Databases' and includes a list of content types: scholarly articles, newspapers or magazines, images or historical documents, and full-text books.
- Start Here: Features 'PsycINFO', described as a behavioral sciences database with over 1.8 million entries.
- Other Databases with Important Content: Lists 'Academic Search Complete', 'CINAHL Complete', and 'Communication & Mass Media Complete (CMMC)'. Each entry provides a brief description of the database's scope and content.
- Ask A Librarian: Includes a 'Having trouble? Ask!' section with contact information: email, phone (806) 651-2215, library hours, and the reference desk.
- Interlibrary Loan: Explains that books or articles not in the library can be obtained via Interlibrary Loan (ILL), with a 'Request a book or article' link and a note that most articles are emailed within 1-2 weeks.
- Conversation: A section with a photo of three people talking.
- Evaluate Resources: Features 'The CRAAP Test' with a list of criteria: C - Currency, R - Relevance, A - Authority, and A - Accuracy.
- Sign Language: A section with a photo of a person signing.
