Where Are Books Located in the Cornette Library?

First, search for a book in the library collection. For example, you can start on the library home page <http://www.wtamu.edu/library/> → Click on Selected Library Links → Cornette Library Catalog

You could search using one of these tabs:

Basic Search

Advanced Search

Subject

Author

A screenshot of the Cornette Library search interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the library logo and links for 'New Search', 'Saved Searches', 'Your List', 'Your Account', and 'Exit'. Below this, the text 'Library Name: Cornette Library' is displayed. The search interface features several tabs: 'Basic Search', 'Advanced Search', 'Subject', 'Author', 'Course Reserves', and 'New Documents'. The 'Basic Search' tab is active. The search form includes a 'Search for:' input field, a 'Search by:' dropdown menu with 'Keyword [ex: austen prejudice]' selected, a 'Limit to (Optional):' dropdown menu with 'None' selected, and a 'Records per page:' dropdown menu with '50 records per page' selected. There are 'Search' and 'Reset' buttons at the bottom of the form.

Search Hints:

Ideally you will find a list of relevant titles. Click on a book title that interests you, for example Social and Communication Development in Autism Spectrum Disorders.

Most of the books in the Cornette Library are arranged by the Library of Congress (LC) Classification System. An outline of LC call numbers is at <http://www.loc.gov/catdir/cpsolcco/>

A short guide to understanding call numbers is at:

http://www.easternc.edu/smithlibrary/documents/getting\_started/Call\_Numbers.pdf

(images below)

Reading Call Numbers

Read call numbers line by line:

LB	Read the first line in alphabetical order: A, B, BF, C, D ... L, LA, LB, LC, M, ML ...
2395	Read the second line as a whole number: 1, 2, 3, 45, 100, 101, 1000, 2000, 2430 ...
.C65	The third line is a combination of a letter and numbers. Read the letter alphabetically. Read the number as a decimal, e.g. .C65 = .65 .C724 = .724 (Some call numbers have more than one combination letter-number line.)
1991	This is the year the book was published. Chronological order: 1985, 1987, 1991, 1992 ...

Putting Call Numbers in Shelf Order

To understand how call numbers are put in order in Library of Congress Classification, look at each section of the call number.

Call Numbers

So a Loan Shelves book with a call number that starts with R will be on the 1st floor of the library. When you see the call number in the online catalog, it will appear as one line of information, such as: RJ496.C67 W43 2004

When you find the book, the call number on the spine of the book will be:

RJ
496
.C67
W43
2004

When you go to the 1st floor Loan Shelves to search for the book:

- look first for the area with books that begin with the call number R
- the R books will be in order by the first line of the call number, such as R, then RC, then RJ
- when you browse the RJ books, look at the second line until you find the whole number: 496
- continue searching line by line until you find the book you want
- if you have problems, ask any library staff member for help

Call Numbers – Subject Areas

A call number is not only the address of a book, it also serves to arrange books by subject. For example, books with the call number RJ 496 .C67 are about communicative disorders in children. Books with the call number RJ 496 .A6 are about aphasia in children. When you find one good book, you can browse the shelf around it for other, similar books that might interest you.

Browsing Library Shelves

For example, if you browse the shelves for books that begin with the call number R, you may see some subject areas that interest you:
