Interlibrary Loan for an Article – Using See if we have FULL TEXT

You may want to read an article that is not available in a database or in print in the Cornette Library. The library may be able to help you with that problem.

You may ask the Interlibrary Loan Department (ILL) to request a copy of the article for you from another library. Often ILL can locate a copy at no cost to you. You will be notified in advance if the other library asks you to pay a fee.

Here is one way to make the request via a database search.

Example: You find an interesting article in a database. If the link Linked Full Text does not go to a free copy of the article, click on the link to See if we have FULL TEXT.

On the left side, there is a "Refine Results" section with a "Current Search" dropdown. Below it, a box displays "Find all my search terms:" followed by the search query: "auditory characteristics of children with autism".

The main search results area shows "Search Results: 1 - 1 of 1". The first result is "Auditory characteristics of children with autism." with a document icon. Below the title, it says "(includes abstract) Tharpe AM; Bess FH; Sladen DP; Schissel H; Couch S; Sche Aug; 27 (4): 430-41. (journal article - research, tables/charts) ISSN: 0196-0202 P". Below that, it says "Academic Journal" and "Subjects: Audiometry In Infancy and Childhood; Autistic Disorder Physiopatholo 2-5 years; Female; Male". Below the subjects, it says "Cited References: (72) Times Cited in this Database: (4)". At the bottom of the result, there are two links: "Linked Full Text" and "See if we have FULL TEXT". A large red arrow points to the "See if we have FULL TEXT" link.

After clicking on the link See if we have FULL TEXT, you see that there is no online access to the article in a library database. Also, there is no link to the Cornette Library Catalog—it is not available to you in print.

To ask to get the article from another library, click on the link Need an article not available in the Library or online? Use ILLiad.

WARNING CONCERNING COPYRIGHT RESTRICTIONS

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted materials.

Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of these specified conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be "used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research". If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use", that user may be liable for copyright infringement.

This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying order if, in its judgment, fulfillment of the order would involve violation of copyright law.

When using this feature through a database, you will see that most of the ILL request form is already filled out for you.

While you can add/change information, such as the Not Wanted After Date, you must allow two weeks to receive the article. However, you may get it much sooner than that.

To submit the ILL request, click the Submit Request button.

You will be notified when the article is available. Per the preference you set when you registered as a First Time User, you will be contacted either by WT email or telephone. You may then go to the ILL office to pick up the article, if the article cannot be emailed directly to you.
