

West Texas A&M University presents

People of Africa singing in the background.

A Maroon Productions film

They brought joy, happiness and a overwhelming sense of love everywhere we went. Whether it was at the guest house, or the schools, we were being treated like celebrities.

I think a trip like this helps a student mature more than anything else.

Every little thing I can imagine, I'm grateful for now, because I see what I have.

People need help everywhere; here and across the seas, all across the world.

I really want to go back.

Through the Eyes of Africa