A Message from the President

Our purpose – our calling – is to provide life changing opportunities for student. This happens in many ways around the campus: in classrooms, laboratories, studios, theaters, performance halls, and arenas. In addition, our gathering spaces inside and outside of buildings and on campus as students, faculty, staff, visitors and residents alike, move to and from during the course of the day, are all “places of learning.”

To the extent that people are safe, and feel safe, learning will be enhanced. Our campus and the City of Canyon are both recognized as safe places to live and work. They are deemed as the result of tireless and persistent efforts on the part of public officials, public safety personnel, and equal in importance, each and all of us as we are mindful of the significance of a safe environment and the role we play in sustaining it.

Complacency would diminish that which we diligently seek.

I urge all of us to continue to attend to our needs for a safe and secure learning environment that supports study so that we might best fulfill the aspirations of our students, and the calling we answer.

Walter Wendler

Amarillo Center

West Texas A&M University is changing the landscape of Amarillo with the creation of a permanent campus in the heart of the city. The new Buff stomping grounds will be located in the Commerce Building at 8th Avenue and South Tyler Street. The permanent facility will further efforts to revitalize and energize downtown Amarillo, while helping provide a highly qualified workforce for area employers. The WTAMU Amarillo Center currently located in the Chase Tower at 600 S. Tyler, Amarillo, has been a resounding success. The renovation of and move to the nearby Commerce Building will allow WTAMU to serve more students in the region.

Classes are currently offered on the 10th and 11th floors of the Chase Tower. Crime statistics are requested and collected annually from the Amarillo Police Department for this location. The crime statistics are currently included in the non-campus category. At the opening of the permanent WTAMU facility, statistics will be separated and designated as a separate campus. If you have specific questions about current statistics, please feel free to contact the Clery Coordinator at 806-651-2300 or modell@wtamu.edu.

The policies, procedures, and services offered to WTAMU students, faculty and staff that attend classes or office in the current Amarillo Center are the same as those offered to WTAMU students, faculty and staff on the WTAMU campus located in Canyon.

University Police Department

West Texas A&M University police officers are certified Texas Peace Officers having arrest powers and statewide jurisdiction to enforce local, state and federal laws. The department employs a 24-hour staff of trained licensed dispatchers and patrols and handles all investigations of criminal offenses on the WTAMU campus. WTAMU operates under a "no tolerance" level of enforcement relating to fighting, weapons, alcohol and other drugs on University property.

UPD does not provide law-enforcement services to off-campus residences or meeting sites of recognized University organizations unless specifically requested. Off-campus properties and activities are monitored, recorded and investigated by the police agency with jurisdiction of the location.

UPD works and trains with other local police agencies and has Mutual Assistance Agreements with the City of Canyon Police Department, the City of Amarillo Police Department and the Randall County Sheriff's Department to facilitate cooperation in the investigation of criminal activity and enforcement of the laws of Texas and to assist in providing additional law enforcement officers and resources to protect the health, life and property of the residents, personnel and visitors of the university.

Reporting and Disclosure Procedures

All employees of West Texas A&M University (WTAMU) are trained and designated as Campus Security Authorities (CSA) by the President of WTAMU and are required to report violations of federal, state and local laws. These violations as well as any public safety related incidents must be promptly reported to the University Police Department (UPD) for investigation or disposition. Students and employees should report any criminal offense for the purpose of making timely warning notices (Crime Alerts) and annual statistical disclosure to UPD by calling 806-651-2300, which includes incidents that occur at non-campus WTAMU property or locations. These incidents should immediately be reported to the law enforcement agency with jurisdiction for the location. Although statistical information is requested annually from these jurisdictions, UPD requests notification of the incident for follow-up and documentation purposes. Non-emergencies may be reported to the UPD Police Chief or the Clery Coordinator at 806-651-2300. The Campus Security Authority guidelines http://www.wtamu.edu/university_police/upd-campus-security-authority-guidelines.aspx and CSA crime report form <https://apps.wtamu.edu/forms/csareport.php> are available online to review and report Clery crimes.

Reporting responsibilities also extend to WTAMU campus volunteers designated as CSA's, which are required to report crimes to UPD. An annual training assignment and campus-wide e-mail notification is sent from the University President to notify CSA's of their responsibility. Professional and pastoral counselors may encourage their clients to consider voluntarily and confidentially reporting crimes, when applicable. These and all such reports are compiled and coordinated through the University Police Department and the Office of the Vice President for Student Enrollment, Engagement and Success. Also, UPD receives mutual aid from both local and state police agencies. UPD requests, monitors, and records, through local police agencies, criminal activity at non-campus locations on behalf of student organizations and students attending WTAMU. Each incident, whether or not a formal police report is filed or an investigation ensues, counts as one offense and is reflected on the University's annual crime statistics report.

This annual report includes statistics on reported crimes, arrests and referrals for violations that occur on campus, in residential facilities, on non-campus University property and on public property contiguous to campus boundaries. All reported violations that have taken place in these designated areas during the previous three years, whether or not a WTAMU student, faculty, or staff member was involved, are reflected in the report. The report is made available to prospective students and employees as well as current students, faculty, and staff.

Confidential Reporting

The University Police Department encourages anyone who is the victim or witness of any crime to promptly report the incident to the police. Because police reports are public records under state law, UPD cannot hold reports of crime in confidence. Confidential reports for purposes of inclusion in the annual disclosure of crime statistics can generally be made to other WTAMU employees as they are trained and designated as campus security authorities. WTAMU will protect the confidentiality of victims to the extent permissible by law. Reports filed confidentially are counted and disclosed in the annual crime statistics for the University.

The university will protect the identity of persons who report having been victims of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking to the fullest extent permissible by law. When a complainant does not consent to the disclosure of his or her name or other identifiable information of the alleged perpetrator, the university's ability to respond to the complaint may be limited.

Emergency Operations Plan

West Texas A&M University officials take the safety of the campus community very seriously and are consistently evaluating the Emergency Operations Plan to ensure it is timely and effective. The EOP <https://www.wtamu.edu/risk> addresses both evacuation and shelter-in-place procedures. Emergency response procedures within the plan are tested annually. The University has implemented mass notification systems on campus to assure campus members are kept informed of any emergencies, as well as performing regular drills to test the plans' effectiveness. The University is involved in emergency management planning on all levels; including city, county and state, to address possible responses to disasters which may occur. Mutual aid agreements and contracts are in place to hasten the University's recovery from any type of emergency.

In case of Emergency, call 911.

To report a non-emergency incident, call 806-651-2300

Missing Student Procedure

If a member of the West Texas A&M University community has reason to believe that a student who resides on campus is missing; he or she should notify the University Police Department (UPD) at 806-651-2300 and the Office of Residential Living 806-651-3000 to initiate the Residence Life Missing Student Procedure. If any staff member in Residential Living is notified that a residential student may be missing, UPD will be contacted. Once University Police have been notified, they will begin an investigation, to determine if a missing person report needs to be made.

If UPD determines that the student, who resides in on campus housing, has been missing for more than 24 hours, UPD will notify the student's missing person contact or emergency contact, if a missing person contact is not listed, no later than 24 hours after the student is determined to be missing. If the missing student is under the age of 18 and is not an emancipated (legal independent status) individual, UPD will notify the student's parent or legal guardian immediately after the student has been determined to be missing for more than 24 hours. UPD will inform the law enforcement agency or agencies in the location of the student's last known whereabouts, within 24 hours after determining the student is missing.

In addition to registering an emergency contact, students residing on campus have the opportunity to identify confidentially an individual to be contacted in the event the student is determined to be missing for more than 24 hours. The University Registrar requires all students to update their emergency contact info in Datatel/Colleague before they will have the opportunity to enroll for classes. At this time students will also have the opportunity to list a missing person contact, should they ever be determined to be missing for more than 24 hours. All contact information will be kept confidentially in Datatel/Colleague. The missing student contact information provided will be accessible only to authorized campus officials and Law Enforcement personnel and may not be disclosed outside of a missing student investigation.

Timely Warning Notices/Crime Alert

The West Texas A&M University (WTAMU) Police Department (UPD) Chief of Police or a designee will develop timely warning notices for the University community to notify members of the community about serious crimes against people that occur on campus or contiguous to campus, where it is determined that the incident may pose a serious or continuing threat to members of the WTAMU community. These warnings will be distributed if the incident is reported either to UPD directly or to UPD indirectly through a campus security authority or any local police agency. Crime Alerts may be issued on a case-by-case basis pending information received by UPD. The Chief will determine if the release of the Crime Alert would compromise law enforcement efforts and determine the appropriate time for release to be made.

The department issues/posts Crime Alerts for incidents of

- Criminal Homicide
- Aggravated assault (cases involving assaults among known parties, such as two roommates fighting which results in an aggravated injury, will be evaluated on a case by case basis to determine if the individual is believed to be an on-going threat to the larger WTAMU community)
- Robbery involving force or violence (cases including pick pocketing and purse snatching will typically not result in the issuance of a Crime Alert, but will be assessed on a case by case basis)
- Sexual Assault (considered on a case by case basis depending on the facts of the case, when and where the incident occurred, when it was reported, and the amount of information known by UPD)
- Major incidents of arson
- Other crimes as determined necessary by the Chief of Police, or his or her designee in his or her absence

A timely warning notice will typically include the following, unless issuing any of this information would risk compromising law enforcement efforts:

- Date and time or timeframe of the incident
- A brief description of the incident
- Information that will promote safety and potentially aid in the prevention of similar crimes (crime prevention or safety tips).
- Suspect description(s) when deemed appropriate and if there is sufficient detail (see below)
- Police/Public Safety agency contact information
- Other information as deemed appropriate by the Chief or his/her designee

The description of subjects in a case will only be included in the alert if there is a sufficient amount of detail to describe the individual. If the only known descriptors are sex and race, that will not be included in the alert.

UPD will draft the alert and an email containing the proposed Crime Alert and forward it to the Vice President for Business and Finance and President. VPBF will forward to the appropriate senior administrators for review if necessary. After review and revision, UPD will forward the Crime Alert to Information Technology with instructions for transmitting the email containing the Crime Alert to the University community as a blast email. Updates to the WTAMU community about any particular case resulting in a crime alert also may be distributed electronically via blast email or posted on the University's Web site.

Crime Alerts may also be posted in campus buildings, when deemed necessary. When a Crime Alert is posted in campus buildings, it shall be printed on orange paper and be posted in the lobby/entrance area of the affected building(s) for seven (7) days.

A daily crime and fire log is available for review at www.wtamu.edu/police look for Daily Crime and Fire Log in the list to the right) or at UPD in the Old Sub building SUB102 on campus from 8 a.m.–5 p.m. Monday through Friday, excluding holidays.

The department does not issue Crime Alerts for the above listed crimes if:

1. The department apprehends the subject(s) and the threat of imminent danger for members of the WTAMU community have been mitigated by the apprehension.
2. If a report was not filed with UPD or if a local police agency was not notified of the crime in a manner that would allow the department to post a “timely” warning for the community. A general guideline will include a report that is filed more than five days after the date of the alleged incident may not allow UPD to post a “timely” warning to the community. This type of situation will be evaluated on a case by case basis.

Emergency Notification

The West Texas A&M University (WTAMU) Police Department (UPD) Chief of Police or a designee will develop an emergency notification for the University community to notify members of the community about a serious crime, a natural disaster or a manmade emergency that poses an immediate threat to the health and safety of the WTAMU community or a segment of the community. If the institution implements the procedures regarding notification of the WTAMU community for an immediate threat, the institution is not obligated to implement the timely warning notice procedures.

The types of incidents that may cause an immediate threat to the WTAMU community could include but are not limited to emergencies such as: an active shooter on campus, hostage/barricade situation, a riot, suspicious package with confirmation of a device, a tornado, a fire/explosion, suspicious death, structural damage to a WTAMU owned or controlled facility, biological threat (anthrax, etc.), significant flooding, a gas leak, hazardous materials spill, etc. The notification will be distributed if the incident is reported either to UPD directly or to UPD indirectly through a campus security authority, any local police agency or other appropriate agency. UPD has a responsibility to respond to such incidents to determine if the situation does in fact pose an immediate threat to the community.

The UPD supervisor on duty is responsible for immediately notifying the UPD Chief of Police or designee of any situation that poses an immediate threat to the community. The Chief of Police or designee will confirm the significant emergency or dangerous situation and notify the WTAMU Vice President for Business and Finance of the need for an emergency notification. The VPBF will notify the President and appropriate senior administrators.

The Chief of Police or designee will, without delay and taking into account the safety of the community, determine the content of the notification and initiate the notification system, unless issuing a notification will, in the judgment of the first responders (including, but not limited to: UPD, Canyon Police Department, Canyon Fire Department, Randall County Sheriff's Department, Texas Department of Public Safety, Amarillo Police Department, Amarillo Fire Department and BSA Emergency Medical Services), compromise the efforts to assist a victim or to contain, respond to, or otherwise mitigate the emergency. The Chief of Police or designee will determine the appropriate segment or segments of the campus community to receive the emergency notification.

WTAMU and UPD have various systems in place for communicating information quickly to the WTAMU community, including:

1. Network emails (Students, Faculty and Staff)
2. Buff Alert (text message)
3. BRG Emergency Public Address System (radio frequency based speaker system inside all buildings and two outdoor) some buildings with electronic message boards display the message.
4. Department of Communication and Marketing (media releases, social media, website notifications)
5. Information Technology may post messages on the WTAMU Weather Closing phone line at 806-651-2010.

Some or all of these methods of communication may be activated in the event of an immediate threat to the WTAMU campus community. Media releases are made to local and regional affiliates if dissemination to the larger community is necessary. Follow up information of the incident will be provided using the same methods as the first notification.

Buff Alert is an opt-out emergency alert system. When the Buff Alert system is activated, all active WTAMU network email accounts receive the Buff Alert email being distributed. Students, Faculty and Staff are encouraged to go online and register their cell phone number to receive immediate texts as well as the email when the Buff Alert system is activated. The campus can sign up for Buff-Alert on the homepage of the WTAMU website or at: <http://apps.wtamu.edu/buffalert>. The entire campus community, or appropriate segment of campus, will be notified by the BRG Emergency Public Address System when there is at least the potential that a very large segment of the community will be affected by a dangerous situation or when a situation threatens the operation of the campus as a whole.

Campus Access and Security

WTAMU is a public and open campus. No effort is made to restrain the general public from entering the campus; however, the University Police Department reserves the right to bar individuals who are considered a threat to the well-being of the University community. UPD provides 24-hour patrol of campus property and facilities, and designated building coordinators establish and maintain access to respective buildings. The campus is routinely inspected for environmental safety hazards such as insufficient lighting and overgrown shrubbery, and members of the University community are encouraged to report locations of concern.

The on-campus community at WTAMU is comprised of approximately 2000 students residing in eleven residence halls. Key access or electronic card access is required at hall entrance doors. All hall sleeping rooms require keys for entrance. Guests in all halls are to be escorted as per hall rules. Residents have card or key access to their hall only. Residents also have access to UPD and Residential Living staff members for assistance.

Crime Report, Arrest and Referral Statistics

West Texas A&M University's crime statistics are categorized according to the Federal Bureau of Investigation's uniform crime reporting standards without regard to guilt or innocence. Statistics reflect reports made to campus security authorities as well as University, local and requested police departments and are compiled according to Clery Act guidelines and coordinated by the University Police Department and Office of the Vice President for Student Enrollment, Engagement and Success.

Non-Stranger Rape

A RAPIST IS NOT ALWAYS A STRANGER attacking late at night in an isolated place. A rapist may sit next to you in class, compete on your intramural team or belong to the same organization. Rape doesn't just conjure up thoughts of a crazed stranger in a dark alley anymore. Non-stranger rape is rape.

If You Are Raped . . .

Tell Someone

Collect your thoughts, then call:

- 911 or any police department
- University Police Department (806-651-2300)
- Victim Assistance (806-651-2307)
- Amarillo Rape Crisis Center (806-374-5433)
- WTAMU Student Medical Center (806-651-3287)
- WTAMU Counseling Center (806-651-2340)

Get Medical Care

As soon as possible, seek medical care from a hospital emergency room, the WTAMU Student Medical Center or a private physician. A general exam by a rape/sexual assault nurse at the Northwest Texas Hospital Emergency Room, 806-354-6933, is advised to collect information for documentation of evidence should you decide to prosecute. The exam may also include testing and treatment to help prevent sexually transmitted diseases. Medication to help prevent pregnancy may be administered up to 72 hours after the sexual assault through WTAMU's Student Medical Services.

Report the Rape

It is your decision whether to report the rape; however, most rapists are repeat offenders and your report may prevent future attacks from occurring. University personnel will assist you in notifying the police if needed. If you plan to file a report, do not clean up the area or alter it in any way prior to UPD's arrival, and do not bathe, shower, douche or change clothes prior to the medical examination.

Seek Counseling

The local Rape Crisis Hotline and the WTAMU Counseling Center are staffed with well trained and compassionate counselors. They can assist you in dealing with the emotional trauma and pain associated with sexual assault. University officials will also help you change academic and living situations if that is your choice and such options are reasonably available.

Non-Stranger Rape Prevention Checklist

- ✓ Set sexual limits. You don't "owe" anyone sex. Communicate those limits. People can't read your mind.
- ✓ Trust your feelings. If you feel pressured, you probably are.
- ✓ Pay attention to behavior that doesn't seem right. Power stares, someone who grabs or pushes, someone who doesn't listen or disregards what you are saying, someone who blocks your way, or someone sitting or standing uncomfortably close are all clues that you should stay alert.
- ✓ Be assertive. Get angry and act immediately with a negative response if things seem out of hand. Stand up for yourself. It's OK to make a scene or be rude if someone is pressuring you.
- ✓ Control your environment. Decide whether you want to be in a particular place or not, and don't depend on casual acquaintances for money, shelter, transportation, etc.

- ✓ If you choose to drink alcohol, drink responsibly. Seventy-five percent of date and non-stranger rapes occur when one or both persons are under the influence of alcohol.

West Texas A&M University: A Drug-Free Campus

Alcoholic Beverages

State and federal statutes concerning alcoholic beverages and underage drinking will be strictly enforced on the West Texas A&M University campus and at off-campus WTAMU-sponsored events. In addition to these statutes, the University prohibits possession, use, and distribution of alcoholic beverages on campus or in University public buildings and public areas unless otherwise authorized and designated for alcohol use at special events. Making alcohol available to a minor and possession of alcoholic containers is also prohibited.

Drugs

According to state and federal laws, the possession, distribution, and/or use of illicit drugs or narcotics, or any hallucinatory agent or other substance not prescribed to the person by a licensed provider on University property or property under control of West Texas A&M University or at any event sponsored by the University or any University student organization, whether or not conducted on University property, including student travel on behalf of the University, is prohibited. This rule applies to all paraphernalia utilized in conjunction with the possession, sale and/or use of the prohibited substances.

High Risk Alcohol Intake

People who consume large amounts of alcohol over a short period of time can reach very high blood alcohol levels before they pass out. This can lead to decreased breathing and death. Vomiting associated with high levels of alcohol may also cause choking and death.

How to Help an Intoxicated Friend

Do:

- Keep calm and get lots of help. Individuals with high alcohol-blood levels can be unpredictable and violent.
- Speak in a clear, firm, reassuring manner.
- Stay with a person who is vomiting. If the victim is lying down, turn them on their side, keep the tongue from falling back into the throat and protect them from choking.
- Monitor the person. If they become unconscious (will not wake up or talk to you) or if they appear to have problems breathing, seek medical help immediately. Call 911.

Don't:

- Don't try to walk, run or exercise the person. Don't try to keep them awake.
- Don't force anything orally—food, liquid (coffee, etc.) or drugs—in an attempt to sober them up.
- Don't give the person a cold shower; this can be very dangerous.
- Don't try to restrain the person without lots of sober assistance.
- Don't permit the person to drive.

Health Risks of Alcohol

Health hazards associated with excessive use of alcohol or alcohol dependency include dramatic behavioral changes, retardation of motor skills, and impairment of reasoning and rational thinking. These factors result in a higher incidence of accidents and accidental death for such persons than for nonusers of alcohol.

Nutrition also suffers, and vitamin and mineral deficiencies are frequent. Prolonged alcohol abuse causes bleeding from the intestinal tract, damage to nerves and the brain, psychotic behavior, loss of memory and coordination. Damage to the liver often results in cirrhosis. Other risks include impotence, severe inflammation of the pancreas, and damage to the bone marrow, heart, testes, ovaries and muscles. Damage to nerves and organs is usually irreversible.

Health Risks of Other Drugs

Use of illicit drugs may lead to physiological and mental changes similar to those caused by alcohol, although changes are frequently more severe and more sudden. Death or coma resulting from overdose of drugs is also more frequent.

Illicit drugs are commonly classified in seven categories: cocaine, amphetamines, heroin and other opiates, hallucinogens, solvent inhalants, steroids, and marijuana.

In addition to adverse effects associated with use of a specific drug, intravenous-drug users who use unsterilized needles or who share needles with other drug users can develop AIDS, hepatitis, tetanus and infections in the heart. Brain damage may also result.

Substance Abuse and Education

West Texas A&M University strives to promote good physical health and safety of all students and employees and to provide an outlet for ensuring knowledge of the effects and physical cost of drug and alcohol abuse. All employees are notified of the Texas A&M University System policy (#34.02) and regulation (#34.02.01) regarding drug and alcohol abuse upon hire and annually thereafter. Students are notified annually through the Campus Security and Fire Safety Report and at Alcohol and Other Drug (AOD) abuse prevention programming each year through departments within Student Enrollment, Engagement and Success. Additional information is also made available through the West Texas A&M University Code of Student Life, the Residential Living Handbook, and the Student Athlete Handbook. Examples of the types of programming offered for students include:

National Collegiate Alcohol Awareness Week, an annual campaign each fall semester co-sponsored by PULSE (Peers Understanding, Listening, Speaking, Educating). Events run throughout the week that promotes alcohol awareness and education. Residence Hall staff and Resident Assistants (R.A.s) are specifically selected and trained to provide mandatory floor/unit meetings each semester addressing alcohol use and the consequences of alcohol abuse. Also, Safe Spring Break week is an annual event that educates students on drug and alcohol use related to spring break. The University curriculum also offers over fifty academic courses each year that address the use and abuse of alcohol and other drugs.

Students needing education and/or counseling for alcohol and drug abuse may contact Student Counseling Services-Classroom Center Room 116, #806-651-2340 and Student Medical Services, Virgil Henson Activities Center Room 104, #806-651-3287.

Student Definitions

Domestic Violence, Dating Violence, Sexual Assault and Stalking

Domestic Violence: An act against another member of the family or household that is intended to result in physical harm, bodily injury, assault, sexual assault, or the threat of which reasonably causes fear of such harm.

Dating Violence: An act, other than a defensive measure to protect oneself, by an individual against a victim with whom there is or was a romantic or intimate relationship or marriage, and that is intended to result in physical harm, bodily injury, assault, or sexual assault or that is a threat that reasonably results in a fear of such harm.

Sexual Assault: The use of physical force, threat of harm, emotional coercion or intentional impairment of an individual's judgment to force oral, anal, or vaginal penetration by a sexual organ of another or anal/vaginal penetration by any means against the victim's will or without his/her consent. Intercourse without conscious and total consent is assault. An individual who is mentally incapacitated (e.g. intoxicated), unconscious, or unaware that sexual assault is occurring is considered unable to give consent. Sexual assault is not restricted to strangers but may include an employer, acquaintance, classmate, professor/instructor, coworker, spouse or partner. As defined by the Texas Penal Code (Section 22.011). If the person intentionally or knowingly:

- (a) causes the penetration of the anus or sexual organ of another person by any means, without that person's consent;
- (b) causes the penetration of the mouth of another person by the sexual organ of the actor, without that person's consent; or
- (c) causes the sexual organ of another person, without that person's consent, to contact or penetrate the mouth, anus, or sexual organ of another person, including the actor.

Stalking: Knowingly engaging in conduct that a person reasonably believes is threatening to harm them, a member of their family or household, or their property. Such behaviors or actions need not be conducted in person and will be considered a violation if carried out, in whole or in part, using email, social media forums, telephone calls, voice messages or text messages.

Consent: Means assent in fact, whether express or apparent. Consent is communicated through words or clear actions indicating a freely given agreement to perform a particular sexual act. It is the responsibility of the person who wants to engage in sexual activity to ensure the consent of their partner. Consent must be present throughout the sexual activity.

Individuals cannot willingly give their consent when they are coerced, forced, manipulated, intimidated, pressured, threatened or in a state of helplessness. The ability to consent is also jeopardized when there is an actual or perceived power differential between individuals.

Individuals must be of sound mind meaning they are not mentally incapacitated by unconsciousness, disability, drugs, alcohol, sleep, sleep deprivation, injury, or involuntary physical constraint.

Consent to engage in sexual activity at one time and place does not mean consent is implied for future sexual activity. Consent must be willingly given for each time, place, and form/type of sexual activity. This is true regardless of the length of the relationship between individuals.

Consent cannot be inferred from or interpreted by silence.

Victims' Rights

The University Police Department employs a victim assistance coordinator who works directly with innocent parties of crime. The Victim Assistance Coordinator may assist in notifying the appropriate law enforcement authority if requested. For more information, call 806-651-2307.

Regardless of whether a victim elects to pursue a criminal complaint or whether the offense is alleged to have occurred on or off campus, the university will assist victims of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking and will provide each victim with a written explanation of their rights and options. In Texas a victim of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault or stalking has the following rights as taken from the Texas Code of Criminal Procedure Chapter 56. Rights of Crime Victims

The accuser and the accused each have the opportunity to be advised by an advisor of their choice at any stage of the process and to be accompanied by that advisor to any related meeting or proceeding. The University will not limit the choice of advisor or presence for either the accuser or the accused in any meeting or institutional disciplinary proceeding.
 5. The accuser and the accused will be notified simultaneous, in writing, of any initial, interim and final decision of any disciplinary proceeding; and
 6. Where an appeal is permitted under the applicable policy, the accuser and the accused will be notified simultaneously in writing, of the procedures for the accused and the victim to appeal the result of the institutional disciplinary proceeding. When an appeal is filed, the accuser and the accused will be notified simultaneously in writing of any change to the result prior to the time that it becomes final as well as the final result once the appeal is resolved.

Title IX

Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 states: "No person in the United States shall, on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any education program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance". Sexual assault and violence are forms of sexual harassment prohibited by Title IX and Texas A&M University System policy and regulation. West Texas A&M University complies with applicable laws prohibiting discrimination, including Titles VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, as amended; the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, Executive Order 11246; Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972; Sections 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973; the Vietnam Era Veterans Readjustment Assistance Act, as amended; the Age Discrimination Act of 1975, the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, as amended; and the Genetic Information Nondiscrimination Act of 2008.

WTAMU does not unlawfully discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex, age, disability, genetic information or veteran status in admission or access to, or treatment or employment in, its programs or services. Members of the West Texas A&M University community, guests and visitors have the right to be free from sexual harassment and violence. All members of the campus community are expected to conduct themselves in a manner that does not infringe upon the rights of others. West Texas A&M University believes in a zero tolerance policy for sex-based misconduct. When an allegation of misconduct is brought to an appropriate administrator's attention, and a respondent is found to have violated this policy, serious sanctions will be applied. The University is committed to fostering a community that promotes prompt reporting of all types of sexual misconduct and timely and fair resolution of sexual misconduct complaints, in compliance with Title IX, due process, the First Amendment to the federal Constitution, and other applicable laws and regulations. The following information is broadly available to students, employees, and members of the public as part of the University's efforts to ensure that they are aware of the resources available to them in the event of sexual misconduct by faculty, staff, students, or visitors. Your health, safety, and well-being are the University's primary concern. If you or someone you know may be the victim of any form of sexual misconduct, you are strongly urged to seek immediate assistance.

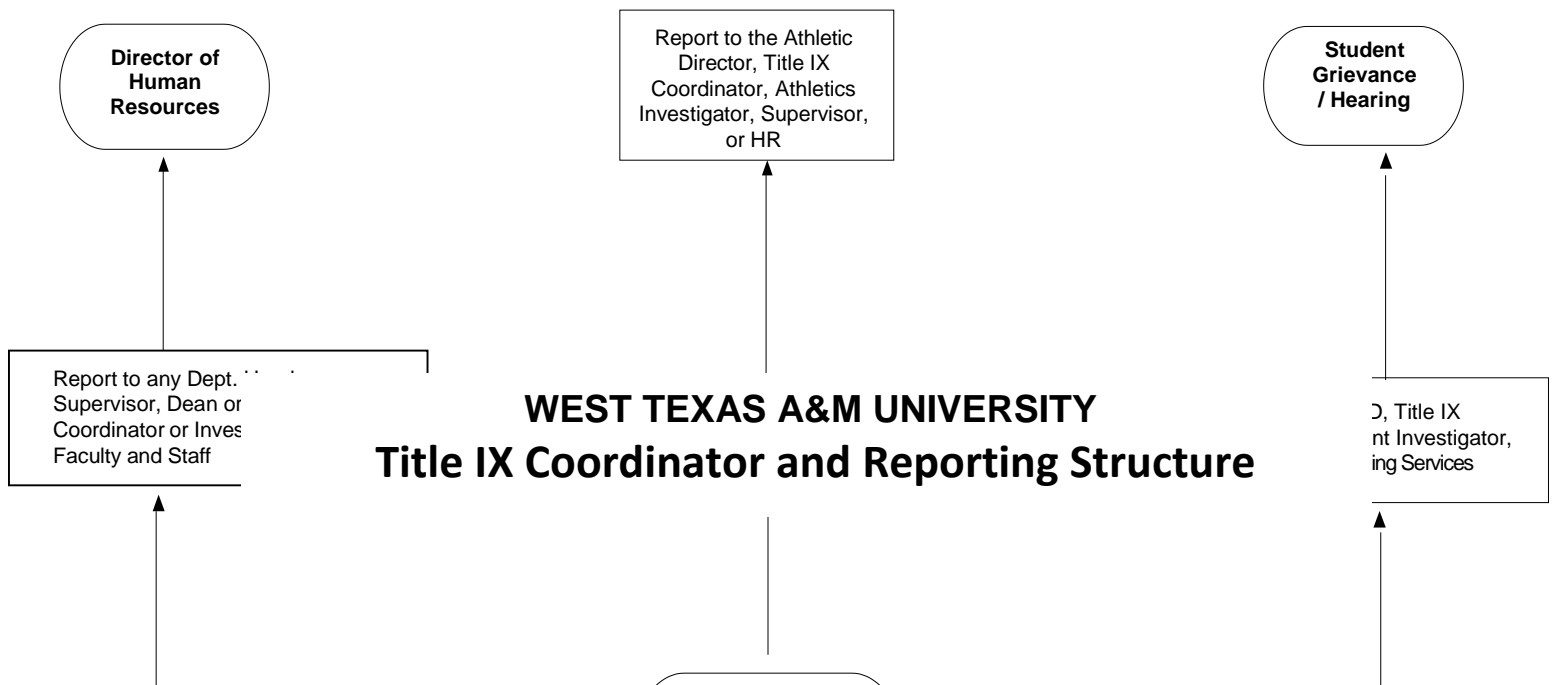

Assistance can be obtained 24 hours a day, seven days a week, from:

Evaluation of requests for confidentiality pertaining to Title IX

If the complainant requests confidentiality or asks that the complaint not be pursued, the university will take all reasonable steps to investigate and respond to the complaint consistent with the request for confidentiality or request not to pursue an investigation. If the complainant insists that his/her name or other identifiable information not be disclosed to the alleged perpetrator, the Title IX Coordinator will inform the complainant that honoring the request may limit its ability to respond fully to the incident, including pursuing disciplinary action against the accused. The Title IX Coordinator shall notify the complainant of the information that will be disclosed, to whom it will be disclosed, and why. The Title IX Coordinator shall also explain that Title IX includes protections against retaliation, and that university officials will not only take steps to prevent retaliation but also take strong responsive action if it occurs. If the complainant still requests that his/her name not be disclosed to the accused or that the recipient not investigate or seek action against the accused, the Title IX Coordinator will need to determine whether or not it can honor such a request while still providing a safe and non-discriminatory environment for all students, including the complainant who reported the harassment.

Note: Anyone may bring any concern or complaint directly to the Title IX Coordinator.

Procedures for Reporting a Complaint

Additional information is provided in this report specifically relating to students and faculty as taken from the Code of Student Life and Faculty Handbook.

Sexual Misconduct Policy

Guide on Sexual Misconduct Campus Policies, Procedures and Victim Services for Faculty, Staff and Students

The University has procedures in place that serve to be sensitive to those who report sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking, including informing individuals about their right to file criminal charges as well as the availability of counseling, health, mental health, victim advocacy, legal assistance, visa and immigration assistance and other services on and/or off campus as well as additional remedies to prevent contact between a complainant and an accused party, such as housing, academic, transportation and working accommodations, if reasonably available. The University will make such accommodations, if the victim requests them and if they are reasonably available, regardless of whether the victim chooses to report the crime to the University Police Department or local law enforcement. Students should contact the Vice President for Student Enrollment, Engagement and Success at 806.651.2050 in JBK 102 and employees should contact the Director of Human Resources at 806.651.2116

in Old Main 116.

After an incident of sexual assault and domestic violence, the victim should consider seeking medical attention as soon as possible at Northwest Texas Hospital 1501 S. Coulter Street, Amarillo 806-654-1000. Also available to students is Medical Services located in the Virgil Henson Activities Center (VHAC 104) 806-651-3287. In Texas, evidence may be collected even if you choose not to make a report to law enforcement. Forensic evidence collection must be conducted at Northwest Texas Hospital. The Non-Reported Sexual Assault Evidence Program was created in HB 2626 by the 81st Legislature and went into effect June 21, 2009. The program allows survivors of a sexual assault to obtain a medical forensic exam and have evidence collected, without cost to the victims, even if they do not wish to involve law enforcement at the time of evidence collection. This allows the evidence to be secured while giving the survivor time to consider whether they want to report the assault. A patient who has requested and obtained a non-reported sexual assault medical forensic examination has up to two years to decide to report the crime. Information related to the program can be found in Chapter 56.065 Code of Criminal Procedure. In Texas, a sexual assault victim has an option to choose a pseudonym (fictitious name) and address to maintain confidentiality. The pseudonym will be assigned at the victim's request.² It is important that a victim of sexual assault not bathe, douche, smoke, change clothing or clean the bed/linen/area where they were assaulted if the offense occurred within the past 96 hours so that evidence may be preserved that may assist in proving that the alleged criminal offense occurred/or is occurring or may be helpful in obtaining a protection order. In circumstances of sexual assault, if victims do not opt for forensic evidence collection, health care providers can still treat injuries and take steps to address concerns of pregnancy and/or sexually transmitted disease. Victims of sexual assault, domestic violence, stalking, and dating violence are encouraged to also preserve evidence by saving text messages, instant messages, social networking pages, other communications, and keeping pictures, logs or other copies of documents, if they have any, that would be useful to University hearing boards/investigators or police. Although the university strongly encourages all members of its community to report violations of this policy to law enforcement, it is the victim's choice whether or not to make such a report and victims have the right to decline involvement with the police. The University will assist any victim with notifying local police if they so desire. Dial 911 for all emergencies or contact the following agencies for non-emergencies on non-campus properties. The Canyon Police Department having primary jurisdiction in the city of Canyon outside of WTAMU properties is located at 301 16th Street, Canyon and may be reached directly by calling 806-655-5005. ² Texas Code of Criminal Procedure, Chapter 57 Confidentiality of Identifying Information of Sex Offense Victims

If you have been the victim of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, or stalking, you should report the incident promptly to the Title IX Coordinator, Nancy Hampton, by coming into the office to report in person at the Killgore Research Center Room 147, in writing to nhampton@wtamu.edu or TitleIX@wtamu.edu or by calling 806-651-3199 and the University Police (if the victim so desires.)³ The University will provide resources, on campus, off campus or both, to include medical and health, to persons who have been victims of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking, and will apply appropriate disciplinary procedures to those who violate this policy. The procedures set forth below are intended to afford a prompt response to charges of sexual assault, domestic or dating violence, and stalking, to maintain confidentiality and fairness consistent with applicable legal requirements, and to impose appropriate sanctions on violators of this policy.

As time passes, evidence may dissipate or become lost or unavailable, thereby making investigation, possible prosecution, disciplinary proceedings, or obtaining protection from abuse orders related to the incident more difficult. If a victim chooses not to make a complaint regarding an incident, he or she nevertheless should consider speaking with the University Police Department or other law enforcement to preserve evidence in the event that the victim changes her/his mind at a later date.

Disciplinary Procedures

All violations of federal, state and local laws and University regulations and rules are reported to the University Police Department. Each violation is considered one offense. Once a criminal report is filed with UPD, it is investigated by the UPD Criminal Investigation Division. When a suspect is identified, the case is referred to the Randall County District Attorney's Office for prosecution.

State and Federal Criminal Penalties are based on language contained in applicable Texas statutes and are subject to change at any time by the Legislature and the Governor. The federal penalties are based on language contained in the applicable federal statutes regarding controlled substances and are subject to change at any time by Congress and the United States President. Title 21 U.S.C Section 860 provides that the federal statutory penalties double (and in some cases triple) when a controlled substance is distributed (or even possessed with intent to distribute) within 1000 feet of a school or a public university.

³ The Title IX Coordinator is regarded as a "Responsible Employee" under Title IX and also a "Campus Security Authority" under the Clery Act. Statistical information less the victims identifying information will be provided to the Clery Coordinator at the University Police Department even if the victim chooses not to alert the University Police Department personally.

Aside from the criminal charges, the vice president for student Enrollment, Engagement and Success refers the suspect for University disciplinary action. The vice president may choose to hear cases that involve charges of a sexual nature, hazing, cases involving temporary suspension or other cases in which the law may grant authority. If the vice president chooses not to hear a case, a judicial officer or judicial board will be appointed to pursue the case. All disciplinary hearings will adhere to the procedures for notification, evidence, counsel/advisors, burdens of proof, records, findings and appeals as outlined in the current edition of the Code of Student Life. University actions may include but are not limited to monetary fines, university service hours, probation, mandatory participation in specific awareness/rehabilitation programs and/or suspension or expulsion from WTAMU.

In all hearings, both the accused and accuser will have the opportunity to present their versions of the facts, to present other evidence in support of the case including witnesses, and to question evidence presented. In cases of alleged sexual assault, both the accuser and accused will be informed of the outcome of any disciplinary hearing simultaneously in writing.

For students living in campus residence halls, refer to the Code of Student Life made available on line at www.wtamu.edu/codeofstudentlife or www.wtamu.edu/residentialliving or a printed copy will be provided upon request. Included in the Code are the regulations concerning alcohol and other drugs, as well as the disciplinary process to resolve violations of the rules and procedures. Additionally, all NCAA student athletes are provided with the Student-Athlete Handbook and are required to sign the NCAA Drug Testing Consent Form at the beginning of the academic year. The form provides each student athlete with NCAA rules, regulations, and sanctions regarding drugs and drug testing. The handbook is available on line at <http://www.gobuffsgo.com/> select Athletics and then Student-Athlete Handbook from the dropdown list.

Sanctions and Protective Measures

Sanctions may be imposed upon those determined to have violated policy. The University may implement protective measures following the report of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault and/or stalking to protect the complainant. For students, sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking are violations of the Code of Student Life. Employees who violate this policy will be subject to discipline, up to and including termination of employment. Sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking are criminal acts which also may subject the perpetrator to criminal and civil penalties under federal and state law.

The Title IX Coordinator or their designee will determine whether interim interventions and protective measure should be implemented, and, if so, take steps to implement those protective measures as soon as possible.

Examples of interim protective measures include, but are not limited to: a University order of no contact, residence hall relocation, adjustment of course schedules, a leave of absence, or reassignment to a different supervisor or position. These remedies may be applied to one, both, or multiple parties involved. Violations of the Title IX Coordinator's directives and/or protective measures will constitute related violations that may lead to additional disciplinary action. Protective measures imposed may be temporary pending the results of an investigation or may become permanent as determined by West Texas A&M University. The University will, upon written request, disclose to the alleged victim of a crime of violence, or a non-forcible sex offense, the report on the results of any disciplinary proceeding conducted by such institution against a student who is the alleged perpetrator of such crime or offense. If the alleged victim is deceased as the result of such crime or offense, the next of kin of such victim shall be treated as the alleged victim for purposes of this paragraph.

In all cases, investigations that result in a finding of more likely than not that a violation of the sexual misconduct policy occurred will lead to the initiation of disciplinary procedures against the accused individual. University sanctions for nonfaculty employees as addressed in the Texas A&M University System Policy <https://www.tamus.edu/legal/policy/policy-and-regulation-library/> 32.02.02 Discipline and Dismissal of Nonfaculty Employees include:

3. TYPES OF DISCIPLINARY ACTION

3.1 A member's human resources office should be consulted before taking the disciplinary actions outlined below. If circumstances warrant, the chief executive officer (CEO) may designate another person to perform the duties of the human resources officer. A supervisor must obtain appropriate higher level approval, as determined by each member, before taking these actions. Absent exceptional circumstances, the Office of General Counsel (OGC) must review and approve in advance for legal sufficiency any suspension without pay, transfer, demotion, reduction in salary or dismissal. When exceptional circumstances prevent OGC review, OGC must be notified as soon as possible after the disciplinary action.

3.2 In most cases, inappropriate job-related conduct or job performance can be addressed by the supervisor who is counseling the employee and providing guidance on appropriate conduct or performance. For more serious incidences or if counseling does not achieve the desired results, the supervisor may issue a written reprimand.

3.2.1 Suspension without pay: An employee may be temporarily removed from duties without pay or be temporarily placed in a non-paid status. Any suspension without pay for more than five (5) work days must be submitted to the CEO or designee for approval.

3.2.2 Transfer, demotion and/or reduction in salary: These actions include the realignment of an employee's assigned duties, title and/or salary for disciplinary reasons.

3.2.3 Dismissal: An employee may be dismissed from system employment in accordance with Section 5 of this regulation. The expiration of a wage position, for reasons other than disciplinary action, is not a dismissal for purposes of this regulation.

3.3 All notifications to the employee regarding disciplinary actions should be made in writing. An employee should also be informed in the written notification of the appeal procedure as described in Section 7. Copies of all documents pertaining to disciplinary action or dismissal will be filed in the employee's official personnel file.

4. EXTENDED SUSPENSION WITH PAY

An employee may be suspended with pay by the CEO or designee for up to 30 work days upon a finding that the suspension is in the best interests of the member or to investigate allegations against the employee. Any delegation of authority under this section must be established in writing by the CEO. Additional time for the suspension beyond 30 days may be granted only by the CEO.

5. DISMISSAL

5.1 An employee may be dismissed immediately after all approvals stated in Section 3.1 of this regulation are granted. The employee must be notified of the dismissal in writing. The prescribed personnel action form confirming the dismissal must be processed through administrative channels.

5.2 When practicable, a minimum of two weeks' notice should be given to an employee unless the employee is in a wage position. The employee shall be placed on suspension with pay until the effective date of the dismissal. Severance pay for time not worked or earned will not be authorized.

Sanctions of faculty will follow the Texas A&M University System Policy 12.01 Academic Freedom, Responsibility and Tenure and reference the WTAMU Faculty Handbook – Faculty Contracts sections listed below.

4. Dismissal of Fixed-Term Faculty

4.1. Fixed - Term Faculty whose appointment have not expired may be dismissed for cause on the same basis that tenured faculty may be dismissed for cause under System Policy 12.01, Section 4.3.

4.2. System academic institutions shall follow System Policy 12.01, Section 6, when dismissing a Fixed- Term Faculty member for cause.

4.3. Fixed-Term Faculty may be placed on administrative leave pending investigation as described in System Policy 12.01, Section 5.

4.4. Fixed-Term Faculty are subject to the provisions of System Policy 12.01, Section 9, relating to financial exigency or termination or reduction of existing programs and may be dismissed subject to this policy.

Disciplinary Appeals

Any employee disciplined pursuant to this procedure may appeal that action in accordance with System

Policy 12.01, Academic Freedom, Responsibility and Tenure, System Policy 32.01, Employee Complaint and Appeal Procedures, System Regulation 32.01.01, Complaint and Appeal Process for Faculty Members, System Regulation 32.01.02, Complaint and Appeal Process for Non-Faculty Employees, WTAMU Rule 32.01.02.W1, and/or other procedures, as appropriate.

Student

Specifically for students as taken from the Code of Student Life:

To file allegation(s) of misconduct against student(s) or student organization(s), individuals should complete an online incident report on www.wtamu.edu/biteam. The written allegation should describe the action or behavior in questions. Individuals may also file a report in person at the Office of Student Enrollment, Engagement and Success in JBK Student Center Suite 102 (806)-651-2051. Complaints against the Office of Student Enrollment, Engagement and Success may be lodged with the Office of the President.

If a report of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault or stalking is reported to the University, listed below are the procedures that the University will follow as well as a statement of the standard of evidence that will be used during any judicial hearing on campus arising from such a report:

Student Disciplinary Rights

Prior to the formal hearing process, a student will be provided a Student Disciplinary Rights document. This document will be reviewed and signed by the student prior to an interview with the student conduct officer. The Student Disciplinary Rights document informs the student of his or her rights to be exercised before and during the conduct process. Those rights include:

1. Refrain from making any statement relevant to the investigation. Students have the right to refuse to participate in the investigation process, either in part or entirely. However, a student's refusal to participate in the investigation, in whole or in part, lasts for the duration of the conduct process. If a student does not provide information during the investigation, he or she will not be allowed to present new information during the hearing; similarly, if a student provides only limited information during the investigation (i.e., answering some of the investigator's questions but not others), then during the hearing, the student will only be permitted to speak to the information he or she provided, with no additional commentary.
2. Notification of the alleged misconduct.
3. Know the source of the allegation(s).
4. Know the specific alleged violation(s) prior to the Formal Hearing.
5. Know the sanctions, conditions, and/or restrictions that may be imposed because of the alleged violation(s).

6. Be accompanied by an advisor at any Office of Student Conduct proceeding or any other related proceeding. An “advisor” can be any one of the following: a member of the West Texas A&M Community (faculty, staff, or student), a Victim’s Advocate, a parent or legal guardian, a relative, or in situations involving criminal legal proceedings, an attorney. An advisor’s role is that of support – he or she may not speak on behalf of the student and does not have an active, participatory role in the conduct process. If an advisor for the accused student is an attorney, an attorney from the Office of General Counsel may attend the hearing on behalf of the University. The complainant and/or the student accused of alleged misconduct is responsible for presenting his or her own information. Students should select an advisor whose schedule allows attendance at the scheduled date and time for the hearing, as delays will not be allowed due to the scheduling conflicts of an advisor, except at the discretion of a Student Conduct Officer upon written request five (5) University working days in advance of the scheduled hearing date. The complainant and/or respondent must notify the Office of Student Conduct if an advisor will be present. The Office of Student Conduct may not allow an advisor if the notice occurs with less than 2 University working days prior to the hearing.
7. To have the opportunity to respond to the allegation(s) and/or present information.
8. Know that if it is discovered that the student made any false or misleading statement(s) during the student conduct process, that student will be subject to further disciplinary action under the Code of Student Life.

Victim Rights

1. When allowed by law (i.e. in cases of sexual assault) the victim shall be informed as well as allowed to be present and heard at all crucial stages of the student conduct process. Victims may inquire as to how the procedures work for a student conduct process.
2. The victim shall be informed about the availability of crime victim’s compensation and other victim’s services by contacting the victim assistance coordinator of the University Police Department.
3. The victim shall be protected from intimidation.
4. The victim shall be protected from retaliation.
5. The victim shall have the right to submit a victim impact statement.
6. The victim shall have the right to seek restitution from the offender.
7. The victim shall have the right to have the proceeding’s officer take the safety of the victim or his/her family into consideration as an element in determining the final disposition for the accused.
8. The victim shall have the right, upon request, to be provided with a waiting area, separate or secure from other witnesses, including the accused offender and relatives of the accused offender before testifying in any proceeding concerning the accused offender; if a separate waiting area is not available, other safeguards should be taken to minimize the victim’s contact with the accused offender and the accused offender’s relatives and witnesses, before and during the proceedings.
9. The victim shall have the right to seek legal counsel. The counsel may advise the student but not present the case.

Reporting Allegations of Misconduct

To file allegation(s) of misconduct against student(s) or student organization(s), individuals should complete an online Incident Report Form. The written allegation should describe the action or behavior in question. Individuals may also file a report in person at the Office of the Vice President for Student Enrollment, Engagement and Success, Jack B. Kelley Student Center, Suite 102.

The Conduct Process

All disciplinary proceedings will adhere to the following procedures.

1. The student will be informed in writing of the allegations made and the date, time, and place of the initial conference with a Student Conduct Officer. This information will be sent to the accused student's WTAMU email address. For University-related correspondence, it is the student's responsibility to check their University email account, check it regularly, and to provide an accurate local mailing address.
2. An opportunity for the student to review the evidence, except official University Police Department reports on cases pending action in the district attorney's office or while the case is still under investigation, prior to the hearing, shall be provided upon request. An appointment must be set up with the Student Conduct Officer in the Office of Student Enrollment, Engagement and Success, in the Jack B. Kelley Student Center, Room 102, to review this information.
3. During the initial conference, the student may bring an advisor of his or her choosing. This person may advise the student but may not actively participate in the conference. The initial conference is not recorded and may result in the following outcomes:
 - a. The student(s) is found not to be in violation
 - b. The student(s) is found in violation and subject to those sanctions described in this Code of Student Life.
 - c. The conduct officer decides that more investigation is needed and continues the conference at a later date.
4. If a student is found not in violation, the process ends. If a student is found to be in violation, this determination will be provided in writing to the student. The student will have three (3) university working days to accept or reject the finding. If the finding is not challenged within those three (3) days, it will be accepted as final. If a student rejects the finding within those three (3) days, a formal hearing will be scheduled and the student will be notified in writing of the date and time of the hearing. The formal hearing will be held before a Student Conduct Officer.
5. During the course of the formal hearing, the student may seek advice of legal counsel/adviser at his/her own expense. Counsel may advise the student but may not present the case. The respondent and the complainant may have one person accompany him/ her in the hearing. This person cannot be a witness. In sexual misconduct cases, the complainant will have the right to be present throughout the hearing but will not be required to attend the hearing. The complainant shall have the opportunity to submit an impact statement. Complainants also have the right to not have past sexual history discussed during the hearing.

6. The University will present evidence supporting the allegations first and has the burden of proving its case by the preponderance of evidence. Preponderance of evidence means proof that leads a reasonable person to find that the facts in issue are more likely to have occurred than not. A determination of the facts will be based only on the evidence as presented. The technical rules of evidence applicable to civil and criminal cases shall not apply.
7. An opportunity will be provided for the respondent to present his/her own version of the facts and to present other evidence in support of the current case including witnesses. Witnesses not having information directly pertaining to the scheduled case may not be allowed. The responding student should notify and make arrangements with their witnesses to attend the hearing or provide notarized written information or official University reports to be included in the hearing. The respondent will also have the right to hear evidence and question evidence presented through the student conduct officer. The student conduct officer may impose reasonable limitations upon the presentation of evidence and questioning of witnesses. A notary is available at no charge in the VPSEES office.
8. A student may not be compelled to testify in his/her own behalf. If the student chooses not to testify or to appear at the hearing, no inference may be drawn from this action; however, the hearing will proceed and a decision will be made based on the facts presented. In the event that the respondent, witness, or any other person involved with the case is late to the hearing, the hearing officer reserves the right to make the determination on participation in the hearing, and the hearing body is not responsible for beginning the hearing over, recalling witnesses or re-entering any evidence into the record.
9. Disorderly or disruptive behavior by any individual during the conduct process may result in removal of that individual from the conduct process, at the discretion of the Student Conduct Officer, and the hearing process may continue.
10. The University will record the hearing and that recording remains the property of the institution. Deliberations will not be recorded. FERPA provides that when information on more than one student is contained in a single education record, each student may inspect only the information specifically related to him/her. If the recording pertains to only the requesting student, arrangements may be made to review the recording. An appointment will be required to re-view the recording, if applicable. Suspension/expulsion sanctions result in records being maintained permanently in the Office of Student Enrollment, Engagement and Success.
11. Upon conclusion of the hearing, a written statement of the findings, the formal action to be taken by the University, and a description of the appeals process will be forwarded (delivered or postmarked) to the student within five (5) working days, as defined by the University. In cases of sexual misconduct, the findings, formal action to be taken by the University, a rationale for those actions, and a description of the appeals process will be delivered to all parties simultaneously, meaning without substantial delay between the notifications to each.

12. Disciplinary hearings will be closed with the exception of those directly involved in the hearing. The disciplinary proceedings will not be open to the media.
13. At the University's discretion, notices and student conduct correspondence will be issued to the student's local and/or permanent address of record, delivered by staff, or via email. It is the student's responsibility to keep the address of record current and to check their University email account. A letter sent to the address listed in the registrar's records or staff delivered shall constitute full and adequate notice. The failure of a student to provide an address change or forwarding address, the refusal to accept/receive a letter (sent either by first class mail or certified mail or by staff delivery), or failure to check University email shall not constitute good cause for failure to comply with the content of the official University correspondence. Disciplinary action may be taken against a student for failure to appear after proper notice.

Sanctions

SANCTIONS are defined as the primary outcome of the alleged violation.

DISCIPLINARY REPRIMAND - An official warning that the student's conduct is in violation of WTAMU student rules.

DISCIPLINARY PROBATION is a period of time during which a student's conduct will be observed and reviewed. The student must demonstrate the ability to comply with University rules/procedures and/or standards and any other requirement stipulated for the probationary period. Further instances of misconduct under the Code of Student Life during this period may result in additional sanctions, conditions and/or restrictions.

DEFERRED DISCIPLINARY SUSPENSION is a period of time where a disciplinary suspension may be deferred for a period of observation and review, but in no case will the deferred suspension be less than the remainder of the semester. Further instances of misconduct under the Code of Student Life during this period may result in additional sanctions, conditions and/or restrictions. A student on deferred suspension is deemed "not in good standing" with the University.

DISCIPLINARY SUSPENSION - Time-limited disciplinary suspension is a specific period of time in which a student is not allowed to participate in class or University related activities. The status of disciplinary suspension will be shown on the student's academic record, including the transcript. Notification of disciplinary suspension of a student will indicate the date on which it begins and the earliest date the application for student readmission will be considered. The student conduct officer may deny a student's readmission, if the student's misconduct during the suspension would have warranted additional disciplinary action. If the student has failed to satisfy any sanctions, conditions and/or restrictions that have been imposed prior to application for readmission, the student conduct officer may deny readmission to a student.

DISCIPLINARY EXPULSION occurs when the student is permanently withdrawn and separated from the University. The status of expulsion will be shown permanently on the student's academic record, including the transcript.

Disciplinary records resulting in suspension or expulsion will be shown permanently in the Office of Student Enrollment, Engagement and Success.

INTERIM SUSPENSION OF A STUDENT -A student may be temporarily suspended pending completion of conduct procedures if, in the judgment of the Vice President for Student Enrollment, Engagement and Success, or a designee, the physical or emotional well-being of a student or other students or members of the University community could be endangered or if the presence of the student could significantly disrupt the normal operations of the University. The Vice President for Student Enrollment, Engagement and Success or designee will initiate appropriate conduct procedures to address the disruptive behavior within five (5) University working days from the date of interim suspension.

Upon immediate interim suspension, the student may no longer attend classes, use University services and/or resources, and is not allowed to be on campus until the conduct proceedings have been concluded. Any instances whereby the student should need to return to campus must be coordinated through the Office of Student Conduct and the University Police Department.

Conduct, on or off campus, which typically results in interim suspension:

1. A significant and articulable threat to the health or safety of a student or other member(s) of the University community
2. Sexual assault, other forms of sexual misconduct, stalking, and relationship violence that are creating a hostile environment for the victim and the remedy for the harassment requires temporary separation
3. Criminal felony charges related to weapons, drugs, aggravated assault, and/or terroristic threats.
4. Severe disruption in the academic community related to erratic behavior, threats, property damage, and/or verbal aggression with another student, where the offending student is uncooperative with staff requests.
5. Violation of a No Contact Order
6. Retaliatory harm, discrimination or harassment

Conditions for Continued Enrollment

In situations where a student endangers or displays the potential to endanger others, the University may require, without a hearing, the student to meet certain conditions which may include an evaluation from the University's counseling staff as a condition of continued enrollment. The University's counseling staff will determine if further referrals are necessary.

Not In Good Standing

A student who is not in good standing is subject to the following restrictions:

1. Ineligibility to hold an office in any student organization recognized by the University or to hold any elected or appointed office of the University.
2. Ineligibility to represent the University in any way, including representing the University at any official function, intercollegiate athletics or any forms of intercollegiate competition or representation. This includes events taking place both on and off of the University campus.
3. Ineligibility to receive a University administered scholarship when the length of the period of not in good standing is greater than one semester. Some scholarships adhere to more strict guidelines, and, therefore, ineligibility may result from a lesser length of not in good standing. This sanction implies a serious offense and must be uniformly applied by the office administering the scholarship upon notification by the University Conduct Administrator.
4. Additional restrictions or conditions also may be imposed, depending on the nature and seriousness of the misconduct.

Condition

A condition is an additional component of a disciplinary sanction. A condition is usually an educational or personal element that is to occur in conjunction with the assigned sanction. Some examples of conditions include, but are not limited to:

1. Personal and/or academic counseling intake session
2. Discretionary educational conditions and/or programs of educational service to the University and/or community.
3. Residence hall relocation and/or contract review/cancellation of residence hall contract and/or use of dining facilities.
4. Restitution or compensation for loss, damage or injury, which may take the form of appropriate service and/or monetary or material replacement.
5. Monetary assessment owed to the University.
6. Completion of an alcohol or drug education program.
7. University Service Hours: A specified number of hours of Community/University Service.

Restrictions

A restriction is an additional component of a disciplinary sanction. A restriction is to occur in conjunction with the sanction and will usually be time specific. Some examples of restrictions include, but are not limited to:

1. Revocation of parking privileges.

2. Denial of eligibility for holding office in registered student organizations.
3. Denial of participation in extracurricular activities.
4. Prohibited access to University facilities and/or prohibited direct or indirect contact with members of the University community.
5. Loss of privileges on a temporary or permanent basis.

Parental Notification

Violations of the alcoholic beverages or narcotics or drugs standard may result in notification to the parents/guardians of dependent students under the age of 21. Typically, parental notification will only take place after a second violation. However, the VPSA and his delegate in the student conduct office reserves the right to notify parents based on the severity of an offense, or when there is a concern for the safety or wellbeing of a student or the campus community.

Appeal Procedure

A student may appeal the decision or the sanction(s), condition(s) and restriction(s) imposed by the Office of Student Conduct by submitting a written petition to the Vice President for Student Enrollment, Engagement and Success Office within three (3) University working days of receiving the written decision.

The petition must clearly set forth the grounds for the appeal, together with the evidence upon which the appeal is based. A disagreement with the decision alone shall not constitute grounds for appeal. The only proper grounds for appeal and the only issues that may be considered on appeal are as follows:

1. A procedural [or substantive error] occurred that significantly impacted the outcome of the hearing (e.g. substantiated bias, material deviation from established procedures, etc.);
2. The discovery of new evidence, unavailable during the original hearing or review of the case, which could substantially impact the original finding or sanction. A summary of this new evidence and its potential impact must be included; and
3. The sanctions imposed substantially vary from the range of sanctions normally imposed for similar infractions.

The Vice President for Student Enrollment, Engagement and Success Office has ten (10) University working days to make a decision on the appeal.

Faculty

Specifically for faculty employees as taken from the Faculty Handbook.: A faculty member is defined as a person employed by West Texas A&M University whose duties as specified in his or her letter of appointment include teaching and/or research, and whose rank, as identified in the letter of appointment, is instructor, assistant professor, associate professor, or professor, and including Fixed-term Academic Professional Track Faculty.

Civil Rights Compliance – Title IX

<https://www.tamus.edu/legal/policy/policy-and-regulation-library/> Regulation 0.8.01.01 of The Texas A&M University System Policies and Procedures, September 18, 2015. Contact for interpretation: Title IX Coordinator for A&M System.

Responsibilities

It is the policy of The Texas A&M University System that all employees are responsible for ensuring their work and educational environments are free from illegal discrimination, sexual harassment and/or related retaliation. When alleged or suspected illegal discrimination, sexual harassment and/or related retaliation is experienced or observed by or made known to an employee, the employee is responsible for reporting that information promptly to his or her supervisor, University Police Department, Director of Human Resources or Title IX Coordinator. All employees of WTAMU are considered “responsible employees” with the exception noted in A&M System 08.01.01.2.2.2. All employees should cooperate fully with those performing an investigation. No employee may retaliate against a person for participating in an investigation.

Reports of suspected illegal discrimination, sexual harassment and/or related retaliation must contain as much specific information as possible to allow for proper assessment of the nature, extent and urgency of preliminary investigative procedures. Employees found to have intentionally made false or materially misleading allegations of suspected illegal discrimination, sexual harassment and/or related retaliation may be disciplined, up to and including dismissal. All employees are responsible for complying with state law requiring system training on equal opportunity and nondiscrimination within 30 days of hire and every two years thereafter.

Reporting

An employee who experiences, observes, or becomes aware of illegal discrimination, sexual harassment, and/or related retaliation should promptly report the incident(s) to his or her supervisor, University Police Department, Director of Human Resources, or Title IX Coordinator. An employee is not required to report illegal discrimination, sexual harassment and/or related retaliation to a direct supervisor or to the alleged offender. The alleged offense may instead be reported to the Director of Human Resources or the Title IX Coordinator.

An employee’s complaint or appeal alleging illegal discrimination, sexual harassment and/or related retaliation in connection with discipline and/or dismissal should be filed within 10 business days of the action that caused the complaint or it may be deemed untimely filed and dismissed. An employee’s complaint or appeal alleging illegal discrimination, sexual harassment and/or related retaliation unrelated to discipline and/or dismissal should be filed within 90 calendar days of the most recent incident or it may be deemed untimely filed and dismissed. The filing of an illegal discrimination, sexual harassment and/or related retaliation complaint will not stop, delay or affect pending personnel actions.

This includes, but is not limited to, performance evaluations or disciplinary actions related to a reporter who is not performing at acceptable levels or standards or who has violated system policies, regulations or university rules.

Investigations

The Title IX Coordinator will review each complaint, appeal and/or report of illegal discrimination, sexual harassment and/or related retaliation to determine if there is sufficient information to proceed with an investigation or if additional information is needed. If the information is sufficient, the Coordinator will consult with the Provost/Vice President for Academic Affairs, who will assign the investigative authority, and forward the complaint, appeal or report to the appointed investigative authority within five business days of receipt. If the information is insufficient, the Coordinator, in consultation with OGC, may conduct an inquiry into the circumstances of the complaint/report/appeal and (a) dismiss it as untimely filed, baseless or not a violation of civil rights policy; (b) close it for insufficient information to investigate; or (c) refer it to the office(s) which handles complaints or appeals not related to civil rights.

At any point in the process, the respondent may be suspended with pay, reassigned and/or placed in another type of temporary status pending completion of the investigation and final resolution of the allegations. The university will offer the individual subjected to the alleged illegal discrimination, sexual harassment and/or related retaliation, the respondent and other affected individuals interim protections or remedies, such as physical separation, contact limitations, alternative work or other arrangements, academic adjustments, and Employee Assistance Program (EAP). Failure to comply with the terms of interim protections may be considered a separate violation of system policies and regulations and university rules and procedures.

Both the individual subjected to the alleged illegal discrimination, sexual harassment and/or related retaliation and the respondent must receive equitable treatment in all facets of the complaint and investigation process, including but not limited to the right to representation (if any), the right to present evidence and witnesses, and the right to be informed of the outcome of the investigation.

For faculty, investigation reports may conclude that each allegation is substantiated, unsubstantiated, or there is insufficient evidence to determine whether or not the allegation is substantiated. In all investigations and subsequent decisions, the standard used to determine the merits of the allegation(s) is the preponderance of the evidence; i.e., more likely than not.

Decisions

The Title IX Coordinator will review the investigation report and render a decision in writing to the individual subjected to the alleged discrimination, sexual harassment and/or related retaliation, respondent(s), the investigative authority and the respondent's supervisor within five business days after receiving the investigative authority's report. Circumstances may warrant an extension of the time frame in this section.

Improper Consensual Relations

"Improper consensual relationship" means a mutually agreeable amorous, romantic and/or sexual relationship between two employees, between an employee and a student at the university, or between an employee and a third party; AND in which one of the individuals has one or more of the following: authority over any term or condition of the other individual's employment or academic status; or job duties making that individual directly or indirectly responsible for hiring, supervising, evaluating, teaching, coaching, grading or advising the other individual, or providing benefits to or obtaining benefits from the third party, including employment. Relationships not meeting this definition are not covered by this section.

These relationships may be problematic, even though both parties are willing participants. Improper consensual relationships are characterized by a difference in actual or perceived power that creates potential for any of the following:

- (a) A conflict of interest;
- (b) Allegations that the relationship resulted from coercion, exploitation and/or harassment; or

(c) Allegations of favoritism and/or unfair treatment

If an improper consensual relationship exists, the individual with the hiring, supervisory, evaluation, teaching, coaching, grading or advisory responsibilities, or the employee providing benefits to or obtaining benefits from the third party, must promptly notify his or her immediate supervisor of the relationship and cooperate in making alternative arrangements for hiring, supervising, evaluating, teaching, coaching, grading, advising or providing benefits to or obtaining benefits from the other individual. The individual's immediate supervisor must ensure that the issue is promptly reported in writing to the university CEO. The university retains the right to determine if alternative arrangements are possible and, if so, which one(s) are selected.

An employee's failure to promptly self-report the improper consensual relationship as required by 08.01.01 Section 5.3, or an improper consensual relationship that is not remedied through alternative arrangements, may result in disciplinary action up to and including dismissal.

Retaliation Prohibited

Retaliation action of any kind is prohibited when taken against a witness or other person providing testimony or against the complainant seeking redress under the applicable procedures dealing with sexual harassment. Such retaliatory action shall be regarded as a separate and distinct cause of complaint.

Ombuds Officer

An employee's complaint alleging discrimination, sexual harassment, and/or related retaliation must be filed in accordance with System Regulation 08.01.01. If a claim of illegal discrimination/retaliation is raised to the Ombuds Officer, the officer should immediately forward the issue to the appropriate person under WTAMU Procedure 08.01.01W1. The procedure can be found at www.wtamu.edu/rules Civil Rights Compliance Rule No. 08.01.01.W1

Termination of Employment - Termination with Prejudice

Any faculty member, including a tenured faculty member, may be dismissed for cause before completion of the term fixed in the member's letter of appointment. The following conditions constitute cause for dismissal:

1. Professional incompetence—defined as demonstrated inability to perform, at an acceptable level, the duties required of a position.
2. Neglect of professional responsibilities—defined as failure to comply with official directives and established University policies; neglect of departmental and University duties; failure to keep current and maintain competency in one's field; general inaccuracy, ineffectiveness and dishonesty in performance of teaching and/or research duties; or failure to comply with such reasonable requirements as the University may prescribe for achieving professional improvement and growth.
3. Moral turpitude—defined as any personal misconduct which impairs fulfillment of institutional responsibilities.

While the ultimate interpretation of this provision rests with the University administration, moral turpitude is considered to include, but is not limited to, the following: immorality, conviction of a felony or illegal use of a controlled substance.

4. Sexual harassment—see Appendix VIII. Any faculty member may be suspended with pay pending the outcome of an academic due process hearing as provided hereinafter.

Education and Prevention Programs

The University engages in comprehensive, intentional, and integrated programming, initiatives, strategies, and campaigns intended to end dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault and stalking that:

- a. Are culturally relevant, inclusive of diverse communities and identifies, sustainable responsive to community needs, and informed by research, or assessed for value, effectiveness, or outcome; and
- b. Consider environmental risk and protective factors as they occur on the individual, relationship, institutional, community and societal levels.

Educational programming consists of primary prevention and awareness programs for all incoming students and new employees and ongoing awareness and prevention campaigns for students and employees that:

- a. Identifies domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault and stalking as prohibited conduct;
- b. Defines, using definitions provided both by the Department of Education as well as Texas state law, what behavior constitutes domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking;
- c. Defines what behavior and actions constitute consent to sexual activity in the State of Texas and/or using the definition of consent found in the Student Code of Conduct;
- d. Provides a description of safe and positive options for bystander intervention. Bystander intervention means safe and positive options that may be carried out by an individual or individuals to prevent harm or intervene when there is a risk of dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault or stalking. Bystander intervention includes recognizing situations of potential harm, understanding institutional structures and cultural conditions that facilitate violence, overcoming barriers to intervening, identifying safe and effective intervention options, and taking action to intervene;
- e. Information on risk reduction. Risk reduction means options designed to decrease perpetration and bystander inaction and to increase empowerment for victims in order to promote safety and to help individuals and communities address conditions that facilitate violence.
- f. Provides an overview of information contained in the Annual Security Report in compliance with the Clery Act.

Start By Believing

Start by Believing is a public awareness campaign dedicated to ending the cycle of silence. The University Police Department and the Campus SART co-sponsored the kickoff of this campaign.

Because a friend or family member is typically the first person a victim confides in after an assault, each person's reaction is the first step in a long path toward justice and healing. Knowing how to respond is critical—a negative response can worsen the trauma and foster an environment where perpetrators face zero consequences for their crimes.

Because rapists often re-offend, one failed response can equal additional victims. Start by Believing will lead the way toward stopping this cycle, by creating a positive community response, informing the public, uniting allies and supporters, and improving our personal reactions. The goal is to change the world, and outcomes for victims, one response at a time.

Start by Believing was launched during Sexual Assault Awareness Month in April 2011 in conjunction with the International Conference on Sexual Assault, Domestic Violence and Stalking hosted by End Violence Against Women International (EVAWI) in Chicago.

How to be an Active Bystander

Bystanders play a critical role in the prevention of sexual and relationship violence. They are “individuals who observe violence or witness the conditions that perpetuate violence. They are not directly involved but have the choice to intervene, speak up, or do something about it.”⁴ We want to promote a culture of community accountability where bystanders are actively engaged in the prevention of violence without causing further harm. We may not always know what to do even if we want to help. Below is a list⁵ of some ways to be an active bystander. Further information regarding bystander intervention may be found. If you or someone else is in immediate danger, dial 911. This could be when a person is yelling at or being physically abusive towards another and it is not safe for you to interrupt.

1. Watch out for your friends and fellow students/employees. If you see someone who looks like they could be in trouble or need help, ask if they are ok.
2. Confront people who seclude, hit on, and try to make out with, or have sex with people who are incapacitated.
3. Speak up when someone discusses plans to take sexual advantage of another person or immediately report to University authorities.
4. Believe someone who discloses sexual assault, abusive behavior, or experience with stalking.
5. Refer people to on or off campus resources listed in this document for support in health, counseling, or with legal assistance.
6. Be actively aware of your surroundings and your fellow campus community members, ask if they need assistance.

Steps you can take to prevent sexual assault

Everyone has a role to play in preventing sexual assault. There are many different ways that you can step in or make a difference if you see someone at risk. This approach to preventing sexual assault is referred to as “bystander intervention.”

How can I play a role in preventing sexual assault?

The key to keeping your friends safe is learning how to intervene in a way that fits the situation and your comfort level. Having this knowledge on hand can give you the confidence to step in when something isn’t right. Stepping in can make all the difference, but it should never put your own safety at risk.

⁴ Burn, S.M. (2009). A Situational Model of Sexual Assault Prevention through Bystander Intervention. Sex Roles, Volume 60, Issue 11-12, 779-792.

⁵ Bystander intervention strategies adapted from Stanford University, University of North Dakota, and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Create a distraction

Do what you can to interrupt the situation. A distraction can give the person at risk a chance to get to a safe place.

- Cut off the conversation with a diversion like, “Let’s get pizza, I’m starving,” or “This party is lame. Let’s try somewhere else.”
- Bring out fresh food or drinks and offer them to everyone at the party, including the people you are concerned about.
- Start an activity that draws other people in, like a game, a debate, or a dance party.

Ask directly

Talk directly to the person who might be in trouble.

- Ask questions like “Who did you come here with?” or “Would you like me to stay with you?”

Refer to an authority

Sometimes the safest way to intervene is to refer to a neutral party with the authority to change the situation, like an RA or security guard.

- Talk to a security guard, bartender, or another employee about your concerns. It’s in their best interest to ensure that their patrons are safe, and they will usually be willing to step in.
- Don’t hesitate to call 911 if you are concerned for someone else’s safety.

Enlist others

It can be intimidating to approach a situation alone. Enlist another person to support you.

- Ask someone to come with you to approach the person at risk. When it comes to expressing concern, sometimes there is power in numbers.
- Ask someone to intervene in your place. For example, you could ask someone who knows the person at risk to escort them to the bathroom.
- Enlist the friend of the person you’re concerned about. “Your friend looks like they’ve had a lot to drink. Can you check on them?”

Your actions matter

Whether or not you were able to change the outcome, by stepping in you are helping to change the way people think about their role in preventing sexual assault. If you suspect that someone you know has been sexually assaulted, there are steps you can take to support that person and show you care.

Risk Reduction, Warning Signs of Abusive Behavior and Future

Attacks

No victim is ever to blame for being assaulted or abused. Unfortunately, a person who is the victim of sexual or dating violence is more likely to be re-victimized. Below are some tips to help reduce your risk, to recognize warning signs of abusive behavior and how to avoid potential attacks.

Warning Signs of Abusive Behavior

Domestic and dating abuse often escalates from threats and verbal abuse of violence. And, while physical injury may be the most obvious danger, the emotional and psychological consequences of domestic and dating violence are also severe.

Warning signs of dating and domestic violence include:

1. Being afraid of your partner.
2. Constantly watching what you say to avoid a “blow up.”
3. Feelings of low self-worth and helplessness about your relationship.
4. Feeling isolated from family or friends because of your relationship.
5. Hiding bruises or other injuries from family or friends.
6. Being prevented from working, studying, going home, and/or using technology (including your cell phone.)
7. Being monitored by your partner at home, work or school.
8. Being forced to do things you don’t want to do.

What Consent Looks Like

The laws about consent vary by state and situation. It can make the topic confusing, but you don’t have to be a legal expert to understand how consent plays out in real life.

What is consent?

Consent is an agreement between participants to engage in sexual activity. There are many ways to give consent, and some of those are discussed below. Consent doesn’t have to be verbal, but verbally agreeing to different sexual activities can help both you and your partner respect each other’s boundaries.

How does consent work in real life?

When you’re engaging in sexual activity, consent is about communication. And it should happen every time. Giving consent for one activity, one time, does not mean giving consent for increased or recurring sexual contact. For example, agreeing to kiss someone doesn’t give that person permission to remove your clothes. Having sex with someone in the past doesn’t give that person permission to have sex with you again in the future.

You can change your mind at any time.

You can withdraw consent at any point if you feel uncomfortable. It's important to clearly communicate to your partner that you are no longer comfortable with this activity and wish to stop. The best way to ensure both parties are comfortable with any sexual activity is to talk about it.

Positive consent can look like this:

- Communicating when you change the type or degree of sexual activity with phrases like "Is this OK?"
- Explicitly agreeing to certain activities, either by saying "yes" or another affirmative statement, like "I'm open to trying."
- Using physical cues to let the other person know you're comfortable taking things to the next level

It does NOT look like this:

- Refusing to acknowledge "no"
- Assuming that wearing certain clothes, flirting, or kissing is an invitation for anything more
- Someone being under the legal age of consent, as defined by the state
- Someone being incapacitated because of drugs or alcohol
- Pressuring someone into sexual activity by using fear or intimidation
- Assuming you have permission to engage in a sexual act because you've done it in the past

Help Reduce Your Risk and Avoid Potential Attacks

If you are being abused or suspect that someone you know is being abused, speak up or intervene.

1. Get help by contacting the Counseling Center or Medical Services for support services.
2. Learn how to look for "red flags" in relationships so you can learn to avoid some of those characteristics in future partners.
3. Consider making a report with the University Police and/or the Title IX Coordinator and ask for a "no contact" directive from the University to prevent future contact.
4. Consider getting a protective order – talk to UPD or the Victim Assistance Coordinator
5. Learn more about what behaviors constitute dating and domestic violence, understand it is not your fault, and talk with friends and family members about ways you can be supported.
6. Trust your instincts – if something doesn't feel right in a relationship, speak up or end it.

Sexual Assault Prevention (from Rainn.org)

- Be aware of rape drugs
- Try not to leave your drink unattended
- Only drink from unopened containers or from drinks you have watched being made and poured
- Avoid group drinks like punch bowls
- Cover your drink. It is easy to slip in a small pill even while you are holding your drink. Hold a cup with your hand over the top, or choose drinks that are contained in a bottle and keep your thumb over the nozzle
- If you feel extremely tired or drunk for no apparent reason, you may have been drugged. Find your friends and ask them to leave with you as soon as possible

- If you suspect you have been drugged, go to a hospital and ask to be tested
- Keep track of how many drinks you have had
- Try to come and leave with a group of people you trust
- Avoid giving out your personal information (phone number, where you live, etc.) If someone asks for your number, take his/her number instead of giving out yours

Alcohol Safety

Like many other substances, alcohol can inhibit a person's physical and mental abilities. In the context of sexual assault, this means that alcohol may make it easier for a perpetrator to commit a crime and can even prevent someone from remembering that the assault occurred.

What can I do to stay safe?

You can take steps to increase your safety in situations where drinking may be involved. These tips can help you feel safer and may reduce the risk of something happening, but, like any safety tips, they are not foolproof. It's important to remember that sexual assault is never the victim's fault, regardless of whether they were sober or under the influence of drugs or alcohol when it occurred.

- Keep an eye on your friends. If you are going out in a group, plan to arrive together and leave together. If you decide to leave early, let your friends know. If you're at a party, check in with them during the night to see how they're doing. If something doesn't look right, step in. Don't be afraid to let a friend know if something is making you uncomfortable or if you are worried about their safety.
- Have a backup plan. Sometimes plans change quickly. You might realize it's not safe for you to drive home, or the group you arrived with might decide to go somewhere you don't feel comfortable. Download a rideshare app, like Uber, or keep the number for a reliable cab company saved in your phone and cash on hand in case you decide to leave.
- Know what you're drinking. Don't recognize an ingredient? Use your phone to look it up. Consider avoiding large-batch drinks like punches or "jungle juice" that may have a deceptively high alcohol content. There is no way to know exactly what was used to create these drinks.
- Trust your instincts. If you feel unsafe, uncomfortable, or worried for any reason, don't ignore these feelings. Go with your gut. Get somewhere safe and find someone you trust or call law enforcement.
- Don't leave a drink unattended. That includes when you use the bathroom, go dancing, or leave to make a phone call. Either take the drink with you or throw it out. Avoid using the same cup to refill your drink.
- Don't accept drinks from people you don't know or trust. This can be challenging in some settings, like a party or a date. If you choose to accept a drink from someone you've just met, try to go with the person to the bar to order it, watch it being poured, and carry it yourself.
- Check in with yourself. You might have heard the expression "know your limits." Whether you drink regularly or not, check in with yourself periodically to register how you feel.

- Be aware of sudden changes in the way your body feels. Do you feel more intoxicated than you should? Some drugs are odorless, colorless and/or tasteless, and can be added to your drink without you noticing. If you feel uncomfortable, tell a friend and have them take you to a safe place. If you suspect you or a friend has been drugged, call 911, and be upfront with healthcare professionals so they can administer the right tests.
- Ask yourself, “Would I do this if I was sober?” Alcohol can have an effect on your overall judgment. You wouldn’t drive, make medical decisions, or ride a bike while intoxicated. Many professionals, such as doctors, teachers, and pilots, cannot be drunk while doing their jobs. Given this context, is what you’re about to do a good idea? Will you be comfortable with your decision the next day?

Traveling around campus (walking)

- Make sure your cell phone is easily accessible and fully charged
- Be familiar with where emergency phones are installed on the campus
- Be aware of open buildings where you can use a phone
- Keep some change accessible just in case you need to use a pay phone
- Take major, public paths rather than less populated shortcuts
- Avoid dimly lit places and talk to UPD or the Physical Plant if lights need to be installed in an area
- Avoid putting music headphones in both ears so that you can be more aware of your surroundings, especially if you are walking alone
- Walking back from the library very late at night is sometimes unavoidable, try to walk with a friend or call UPD for an escort
- Carry a noisemaker (like a whistle) on your keychain
- Carry a small flashlight on your keychain
- If walking feels unsafe, call UPD at 806-651-2300 for an escort

Staying safe on Campus (RAINN.ORG)

College campuses can give you a sense of security—a feeling that everyone knows each other and watches out for one another. There are perpetrators who take advantage of this feeling of safety and security to commit acts of sexual violence. We can all take steps to increase safety on college campuses. As bystanders, students can learn ways of stepping in to prevent crimes like sexual assault from occurring. When it comes to personal safety, there are steps you can take as well, and some of those tips are outlined below. No tips can absolutely guarantee safety—sexual violence can happen to anyone, and it’s not the only crime that can occur on a college campus. It’s important to remember that if you are sexually assaulted on campus it is not your fault—help and support are available.

Increasing on-campus safety

The following tips may reduce your risk for many different types of crimes, including sexual violence.

- Know your resources. Who should you contact if you or a friend needs help? Where should you go? Locate resources such as the campus health center, campus police station, and a local sexual assault service provider. Notice where emergency phones are located on campus, and program the campus security number into your cell phone for easy access.

- Stay alert. When you're moving around on campus or in the surrounding neighborhood, be aware of your surroundings. Consider inviting a friend to join you or asking campus security for an escort. If you're alone, only use headphones in one ear to stay aware of your surroundings.
- Be careful about posting your location. Many social media sites, like Facebook and Foursquare, use geolocation to publicly share your location. Consider disabling this function and reviewing other social media settings.
- Make others earn your trust. A college environment can foster a false sense of security. They may feel like fast friends, but give people time to earn your trust before relying on them.
- Think about Plan B. Spend some time thinking about back-up plans for potentially sticky situations. If your phone dies, do you have a few numbers memorized to get help? Do you have emergency cash in case you can't use a credit card? Do you have the address to your dorm or college memorized? If you drive, is there a spare key hidden, gas in your car, and a set of jumper cables?
- Be secure. Lock your door and windows when you're asleep and when you leave the room. If people constantly prop open the main door to the dorm or apartment, tell security or a trusted authority figure.

Safety in social settings

It's possible to relax and have a good time while still making safety a priority. Consider these tips for staying safe and looking out for your friends in social settings.

- Make a plan. If you're going to a party, go with people you trust. Agree to watch out for each other and plan to leave together. If your plans change, make sure to touch base with the other people in your group. Don't leave someone stranded in an unfamiliar or unsafe situation.
- Protect your drink. Don't leave your drink unattended, and watch out for your friends' drinks if you can. If you go to the bathroom or step outside, take the drink with you or toss it out. Drink from unopened containers or drinks you watched being made and poured. It's not always possible to know if something has been added to someone's drink. In drug-facilitated sexual assault, a perpetrator could use a substance that has no color, taste, or odor.
- Know your limits. Keep track of how many drinks you've had, and be aware of your friends' behavior. If one of you feels extremely tired or more drunk than you should, you may have been drugged. Leave the party or situation and find help immediately.
- It's okay to lie. If you want to exit a situation immediately and are concerned about frightening or upsetting someone, it's okay to lie. You are never obligated to remain in a situation that makes you feel uncomfortable, pressured, or threatened. You can also lie to help a friend leave a situation that you think may be dangerous. Some excuses you could use are "needing to take care of another friend or family member, an urgent phone call, not feeling well, and having to be somewhere else by a certain time."
- Be a good friend. Trust your instincts. If you notice something that doesn't feel right, it probably isn't. Learn more about how to keep your friends safe in social settings.

Meeting Offline

More and more people are seeking online connections that turn into offline encounters. According to a report from the Pew Research Center, 38% of single American adults have used online dating sites or mobile dating apps. There are also many ways to meet people online beyond dating sites, such as networking platforms, social media, gaming sites, and activity forums.

Talking to someone online can build a strong connection with someone you've never met in person, but that connection shouldn't overshadow your commitment to safety. Consider these tips to enhance your safety when you plan to meet someone offline.

- Pick a public place. The first time you meet someone in person, choose a public setting that is easy to find. Give the person time to earn your trust before you meet in a private location, like their home.
- Do some research. A quick online search can help you confirm details this person has shared in previous exchanges and may give you a better visual to help you recognize them in person. You can also run a search on the National Sex Offender Public Website (NSOPW), a national resource that pulls data from state, territory, and tribal sex offender registries.
- Go in with an exit strategy. Be prepared to return home safely. Meet the person at the destination instead of accepting a ride. Have cash on hand and a number for a taxi company or ride sharing app. This way, if something goes wrong or doesn't feel right during the meeting, you can be responsible for your own ride home. If you start to feel uncomfortable, you can leave at any time. You may find it helpful to tell the person you are meeting that you have plans directly following your date.
- Tell someone about your plans. Let a friend know where you're going, when you're going, and how long you plan to be there. You can arrange for them to check in with you via text at a certain point, giving you the opportunity to leave the meeting if needed.
- Hold off on revealing personal information. Don't offer up too much personal information or history on the first encounter. Be wary of someone who asks for details that seem too personal, such as questions about your finances or your home address.
- You're allowed to be skeptical. If you start to feel uncomfortable or uneasy, acknowledge these feelings. Don't feel pressured to push aside your concerns for the sake of giving someone a chance. Trust your gut.
- It's OK to lie. If you want to exit the situation immediately and are concerned about raising flags or upsetting the other person, it's okay to lie. Tell them you have an appointment to make, you're not feeling well, or that you have a family member to tend to. You are never obligated to remain in a situation that makes you feel uncomfortable, scared, or threatened.
- Take extra steps when traveling a long distance. Traveling safely is always a priority, but there are a few additional safety aspects to consider when you're traveling to meet someone in person for the first time. Before you book travel, you can ask the person to video chat to get a better sense of how they communicate in a face-to-face situation. If you don't know someone in the area you're visiting, consider bringing a friend along. Plan to stay in your own lodging, like a hotel or a friend's house, and keep this address to yourself. Be responsible for your own transportation throughout the trip. Let someone from home know where you're going and when they should expect you back.

Annual Fire Safety Report

West Texas A&M University is committed to the safety of all residents and is working diligently to maintain a safe environment for our campus. Training on proper use of a fire extinguisher is available for any student or employee by scheduling an appointment with the Fire and Life Safety office at 806.651.2134. A “fire” is defined as any instance of open flame or other burning in a place not intended to contain the burning or in an uncontrolled manner. Fire safety rules and regulations are in place, including safe electrical use and the prohibition of smoking, open flame, candles, and incense. Allowed appliances include: coffee pots, hot pots, microwave/refrigerator (University-issued only), rice cookers, George Forman-type grills, blenders, and crock pots. Buff Hall residents may use cooking appliances that have no open flame and are UL approved. The hall staff reserves the right to remove any cooking appliances deemed to be unsafe in order to limit damages to the hall or the hall community. Fire drills are scheduled throughout the year and are an important part of the fire safety program at WTAMU. Additionally, hall staff conducts health and safety checks in all residents' rooms throughout the semester. The Fire and Life Safety Office conducts life/safety inspections and RA fire safety training each semester, and Campus Emergency response Team (CERT) fire safety training as requested, to identify safety issues and report deficiencies for corrective action.

Our University works closely with the Texas State Fire Marshal’s Office to adopt recommended fire safety measures. To report a fire call 911, or if you have any questions or updates, contact the Fire and Life Safety Director at 806.651.2134, UPD at 806.651.2300 or the Office of Residential Living at 806.651.3000.

Residence Hall-Emergency/Fire Evacuation Procedures

In the event of an actual fire or a drill, all residents, guests and employees must evacuate the building in a timely manner. Follow the instructions of Residential Living staff, CERT team member, UPD Officers, and/or fire-fighting personnel. Recommended evacuation routes are posted in residence rooms and in the suites in Buff Hall.

Fire alarm pull stations and fire extinguishers are installed throughout the halls. Building alarm systems are monitored on a 24-hour basis.

When evacuating, the best way out may not be the way in...have an exit strategy (www.haveanexitstrategy.com).

Fire Drills

The University will hold fire/evacuation drills to acquaint and train the campus on fire/evacuation procedures. All residents and guests should follow directions during the drills. Failure to evacuate the building may result in disciplinary action, a monetary fine, and possible suspension.

Fire Equipment

Because it is imperative that fire and safety equipment functions properly when it is needed, the following acts are prohibited:

- Tampering, disabling or playing with fire extinguishers, smoke detectors, fire sprinkler heads and exit or emergency lights.
- Tampering with or pulling a fire alarm under false pretense.
- Removing smoke detectors or otherwise rendering a smoke detector inoperable.
- Propping open fire doors.
- Obstructing halls and stairwells with furniture, debris and other materials.
- Hanging objects from smoke detectors or fire sprinkler heads.

- Presence on fire escapes in non-emergency situations.

Residents who jeopardize the security or safety of any person will be subject to severe disciplinary action. Tampering with fire equipment or acts of arson can result in criminal prosecution, disciplinary measures, and/or possible fines. Future improvements to fire protection equipment in facilities are considered when planning for new construction or renovations.

Open Flame

No items that have open flames, flammable fuels or open coils may be used in a residence hall. This includes, but is not limited to candles, lanterns, heaters, and incense. Violation of this rule may result in immediate relocation and disciplinary action. These items will be confiscated immediately.

Fire Alarm Inspection, Testing, and Certification

Annual inspections, functional testing and certification of fire alarm systems in the Residence Halls are performed in accordance with the National Fire Protection Association; NFPA Fire Code 72 by a licensed fire alarm company.

Fire-related Injury and Death

Fire-related injury or death is when a person is injured or killed as a result of a fire, including injury or death sustained from a natural or accidental cause while involved in fire control, attempting rescue, or escaping from the dangers of a fire. This includes death within 1 year of injuries sustained as a result of a fire. The term person may include students, faculty, staff, visitors, firefighters, or any other individuals.

McCaslin Hall Apartments

McCaslin Hall was built in 1946 and became the privatized McCaslin Apartments in 1997. Residents of the apartment complex are primarily WTAMU students. In the property lease agreement it was designated that the WTAMU Police Department would provide policing services to this property adjacent to WT's core campus. Clery reportable crime stats are included in the annual reporting of crime statistics in this report in the On Campus and Residential categories. McCaslin Hall Apartments are located at 2402 4th Avenue, adjacent to the WTAMU core campus. It has its own onsite leasing office and is not affiliated with Residential Living at WTAMU.

Fire and safety management are provided by the privately owned management company. Instructions and tips are provided in writing to the residents at the time of leasing. Residents are prohibited from having candles, open flames, or charcoal fires in the apartment. They are advised to never leave hot cooking oil unattended and the stove and oven should always be in the "off" position when leaving the apartment. All smoke detectors must be in working condition and "in use" and barbeque grills should be 10 feet from the building. In case of fire, leave the apartment immediately, call 911 and pull the handle of the red fire box (pull station) located near your apartment. Fire extinguishers are located in the laundry room. All fire systems and extinguishers are inspected annually according to state and city requirements.

McCaslin Hall Apartments has a fire alarm system, a full (throughout the entire building) sprinkler system, smoke detection equipment, portable extinguishers and evacuation plans for its residents. McCaslin Apartments did not conduct any fire drills in 2014, 2015 or 2016.

No fires were reported in 2014, 2015 or 2016.
