

The following training materials are available for viewing at your convenience.
Please contact Dorothy Leija, 651-2984, to set-up a time.

NSF CAREER: *TEES Strategic Research Development

AND other Young Investigator Programs Workshop -

Lsgarton@tamu.edu 979- 845-9775

Presented by Laurie S. Garton, Ph.D.

This workshop features the NSF Faculty Early Career Development (CAREER) Program for untenured, tenure-track faculty, with details of other young investigator programs from the Department of Defense and others are presented. Program requirements and proposal-writing strategies are discussed, as well as how to find funding opportunities; how to contact a program officer; advice on winning strategies and how to avoid common pitfalls; broader impacts resources; and Panelist - Dr. Emily Hunt, WTAMU Defense Threat Reduction Agency 2010 YIP awardee providing insights during Q&A.

- ❖ Media File – .WMV and DVD
- ❖ Handouts

NSF MERIT REVIEW PROCESS AND RESEARCH PROPOSAL PREPARATION:

Presented by Edward J. Hackett – Former Division Director of Social and Economic Sciences, Directorate for Social, Behavioral, and Economic Sciences

This video presentation provides a look at the NSF's proposal review process, research proposal preparation and advice from a successful researcher with knowledge of how NSF works.

- ❖ Media File – Video – NSF Merit Review Process and Research Proposal Preparation
- ❖ Handouts

NIH GRANT PROPOSAL: *Making the Pieces Work Together- Overview:

NIH Grant Sections: Significance, Innovation, And Approach - www.principalinvestigators.org

As a reviewer of hundreds of grant applications, Dr. Paul Spearman offers you invaluable information during this 60-minute webinar. You will get a first-hand plan-of-attack on how to seamlessly tie together the Significance, Innovation, and Approach sections of your NIH grant application.

- ❖ Media File – Video
- ❖ Media File – MP3 - Audio
- ❖ Handouts

NIH GRANT PROPOSAL: *Strategy Behind Your Funding - Overview:

NIH Grant Sections: Successfully Tapping Unusual Sources of Research Funding

Principal Investigators Association has teamed grant and funding expert Tia Cavender to discuss strategies for diversifying your funding sources. Examples of successful funding plans that involve a variety of funders (government, private and corporate support). During this 60-minute webinar, you will learn ways to think creatively about stakeholders and how they can help fund your projects.

- ❖ Media File – Video
- ❖ Media File MP3
- ❖ Handouts