APPLY TO BE A JOB SHADOW MENTOR

Fill out our interest form to provide us with information that will help us see where you would be a good fit and if we have a student that would match well with your industry and their career goals.

"Job shadowing is a chance for the employer to share best practices and also allow for growth opportunities for the job shadow mentee, which also often carries back for the job shadow mentor."

Manchester Metropolitan University

Career and Professional Development will match you with a student based on their major, industry preferences, career goals, professional interests, and similar criteria. OCPD will also look at your industry, positions available for job shadow, and more. While there is no perfect match, the program is intended to be exploratory, along with providing great networking and skill-building.

OUR GOALS FOR YOU:

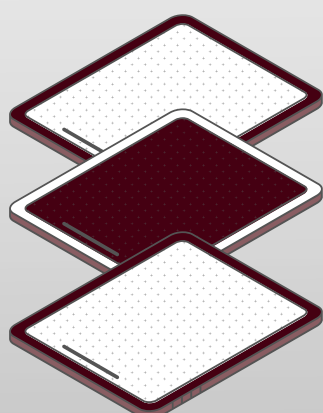

Gain the opportunity for branding and recognition of your company on campus.

Develop and strengthen a potential recruiting relationship with West Texas A&M University students for future internship and career opportunities.

Gain experience mentoring students and building connections with them.

OCPD will provide you with resources to assist you as you prepare for the student/job shadow mentee to arrive for the experience. However, these resources are only a recommendation, as we know you may have prior experience with and knowledge of job shadow programs and we encourage you to use your knowledge for the structure, timing, etc. for the mentee's job shadow experience.
